

The Hartford Republican.

Fine Job Work.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF ALL THE PEOPLE OF OHIO COUNTY.

Subscription $1 per Year

VOL. XXI.

HARTFORD, OHIO COUNTY, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 14, 1908.

No. 4

HARTFORD HERALD STANDS ALONE

In Its Attack on Taft's Religious Belief

Would Deny Citizens of America The right to Worship God as Conscience Dictates.

Editor Republican:—Please allow me to call the attention of the Hartford Herald to the possible far-reaching evil consequences of its persistent parading in its editorial columns of the Rev. Morrison's intemperate and virulent attack upon religious freedom, the most sacred heritage of the American people.

As the exponent of an innovation in religious doctrine to credit which is to discredit the average good sense of mankind there is small reason for surprise that the revered Morrison should revive the dying echo of religious intolerance but so sober a journal as the Herald should be expected to first count the cost. To the thoughtful reader, acquainted alike with the horror of the Spanish inquisition and the terror of the Cromwellian edicts, it is a painful spectacle to see a respectable newspaper attempting political profit by frenzied effort to arouse the spirit of religious intolerance in the minds of the stupid and ignorant. I shall be fair enough to assume that Editor Matthews in an unguarded moment allowed an excess of zeal for a waning cause to lead him in to a character of campaigning that no other journal of his party has seen fit to follow. The Herald unwillingly admits. "Other than the Pentecostal Herald strong arraignment of Mr. Taft we have not seen any severe criticism of the Republican presidential candidate purely on account of his religious predilections."

The good sense of the American Press in refraining to fall in with the Morrisonian attack on religious freedom was present to the mind of the Herald which makes it blunder all the less excusable. The editorial columns of the Courier Journal Bryan's official organ, has sensibly declined to barter our boasted religious tolerance for a paltry sum of votes for its candidate. The Christian Advocate, the official organ of the Methodist Episcopal church South and one of the ablest edited religious journals of the country in its issue of August 7, says: Judge Taft's speech of acceptance is a carefully prepared document. He thinks clearly and writes simply and lucidly. His training for the judicial bench has been too thorough for him to be a routing partisan. As a state paper the speech is admirable, a credit in every way to its author. It will convince any honest reader that Mr. Taft would make, if elected, a temperate and able president. A minister of the same church and a member of the same political party with the Rev. Morrison the distinguished editor of the Advocate not only does not deny judge Taft the privilege to choose his own church but is generous enough to say he would make a temperate and able president.

In passing a friendly criticism on the Herald's cause in this matter I am little concerned about its effect on Judge Taft's candidacy for with the Lord's insuring the New York banks against Bryan's election for the plausibility of a ten percent premium I shall not grow anxious about the Herald's mode of warfare but as a member of a church comprising one sixth of the population of the United States every one of whom is for this reason barred from the presidency, I feel an anxious interest in any effort to further limit the eligibility to this exalted office by reason of church affiliation. If religious tolerance were to be made an issue there is little doubt judge Taft would be overwhelmingly the beneficiary of it, but in Heaven's name let no patriotic American trade upon the religious prejudices of the ignorant for a doubtful advantage in a political contest. Let me close by admonishing the Herald that among American political newspapers it alone has given editorial sanction to the Rev. Morrison's attack on religious liberty.

J. H. THOMAS.

A Pretty Wedding.

The following is an account of the marriage of Mr. Hubert O. Coffman, a former citizen of Ohio county at Spencer, Tennessee:

The prettiest wedding ever witnessed in this place, was that of Miss Mary L. Hutcheson to Mr. Hubert O. Coffman, at the Christian church, Wednesday evening, August 5th, at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. L. S. Gillentine, of Lafayette, Tenn., in his usual, but consistent manner, performed the ceremony.

The ushers were Tom Stovall, N. B. Haston, George Thurman, and J. Lawrence Haston. Attendants were Euclid D. Miller and Miss Mary Frazier Loury. A. Leo Coffman, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Fannie C. Hutcheson, sister of the bride was maid of honor.

While Miss Mattie I. Hutcheson, sister of the bride played the wedding march, Mr. L. T. Hutcheson, father of the bride, marched up the aisle with the bride, and at the altar, presented her to the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where refreshments were served, and many friends gathered there to offer their congratulations. Mrs. L. T. Hutcheson was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Fred Little, of Pikeville, in receiving.

The bride and groom left Thursday morning for Matanzas, Ky., where they will remain for a few days with the father of the groom. From there they will visit several places of interest, returning January 1, 1908.

DEATH CLAIMS HON. CHARLES BEARD.

Succumbs to Typhoid Fever After Brief Illness—At His Home in Fordsville.

Hon. Charles Beard, former Representative from Ohio county died at his home at Fordsville Tuesday night after two weeks' attack of typhoid fever. His death was unexpected, as he was reported going along well the day previous.

Mr. Beard came to Fordsville from Breckenridge county about fourteen years ago, and engaged in the saddle and harness business with Mr. Joe T. Smith. He afterward became a half owner of the business and married a daughter of Mr. Smith, who with two children survived.

Mr. Beard was an enthusiastic Republican and was elected to the legislature on the ticket in 1905. He made a good record at Frankfort and was popular with his fellow members. He has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Whittington at the Baptist church yesterday at 11 a. m., after which the burial took place at the local cemetery, and was in charge of the Fordsville Masonic Lodge of which Mr. Beard was an honored member.

Mr. Beard was one of the most popular men in his community and will be greatly missed. He was in the prime of a bright and useful life.

Demonstration.

We have made arrangements with the International Harvester Company of America to have one of their men give a demonstration with manure spreaders on Saturday, Aug. 15, 1908, at Hartford, Ky.; and shall be pleased to have you favor us with your presence on that date, so that we can explain to you the value of manure and demonstrate the advantages of using a manure spreader. The demonstration will begin promptly at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Yours truly,
Ohio County Supply Co.

TWICE MARRIED TWICE SEPARATED

Now, For the Second Time Seeking Divorce.

Record of Charles and Effie Reynolds. Well Known Residents Of Utica Neighborhood.

Suit for divorce May 19, 1908.

Divorce granted June 19, 1908.

Remarried, July 19, 1908.

Second separation, July 24, 1908.

Wife prepares to file second suit for divorce August 8, 1908.

This is a small portion of the unique history of the domesic fatalities and tribulations of Charles and Effie Reynolds, residents of the Utica neighborhood in this county. The thread of the story begins, over twenty years ago, in the neighborhood of Kirksville, Mo., extends to Utica, Ky., where it meanders for a number of years then back to Kirksville again and again back to Utica, with a turn or two around the courthouse in Owensboro.

More than twenty years ago, James Mills a prosperous farmer of the Utica neighborhood went on a visit to Missouri. When he returned he brought with him a little girl, whom he reared as his own child. She grew to womanhood and about four years ago, was married to Charles Reynolds. For more than three years they lived together and prospered. A daughter was born to them, who is now about three years old.

In May, of this year, the wife filed suit in the Davis circuit court asking divorce on the grounds of settled aversion on the part of her husband. The divorce was granted and the wife given custody of the little daughter.

Mrs. Reynolds with her daughter returned to the home of her foster-father, James Mills. A short time later, about July 15 she went on a visit to her brother in Missouri, the home of her early childhood. Her baby girl was left in charge of her foster father and mother. Charles Reynolds was in the neighborhood.

A few days after Mrs. Reynolds left home, Charles Reynolds secured possession of the little girl and disappeared. Every effort was made by James Mills and others to recover the child, but Reynolds eluded pursuit. He went to Missouri.

Now the divorced husband and wife were in adjoining towns. They met. A reconciliation was effected. A marriage license was issued and, for the second time they were joined in the bonds of matrimony. That was on July 19. On July 24 they separated and Mrs. Reynolds with the child returned to Kentucky. Two days later Reynolds returned. Saturday, August 8, Mrs. Reynolds was in Owensboro preparing it is understood to again institute proceedings for divorce.—Owensboro Messenger.

The Ohio County Baptist Association.

The eighth annual session of this body convened with the Hartford Baptist church Aug. 11. A majority of the churches were represented by one or more messengers. Many visitors and distinguished preachers were present. A. M. Gardner was elected Moderator, O. M. Shultz and J. P. Miller Assistants; Tichenor and N. F. Jones clerks. Dr. P. T. Hale, Corresponding Secretary of the Kentucky Baptist Education Society in a great address on Christian education Monday night raised the high standard of spirituality which was maintained through the session. Bro. O. M. Shultz preached, one of the greatest sermons we ever heard at an Association from Jno. 17:17. He exalted the word of God. The reports were good and the speeches above par. A decided advance was made in gifts to missions. Our Sunday school was made a special order for Wednesday night. The discussion was led by our State Sunday school worker, Bro. W. J. Mahoney. We unanimously decided to organize a Sunday school union in our Association and adopted the constitution prepared by Bro. Mahoney and recommended by the General Association. Dr. W. D. Powell won our hearts. He will lead Kentucky Baptists to victory. Doctors Thompson, Presridge, Eager, Porter, Hale, Maddox and Brethren Jenkins, Casebeer, Cottrell, Humphreys, Maddox and others contributed largely in making this the best session of the entire town.

Yours truly,
Ohio County Supply Co.

S. B. ROBERTSON IS PRESIDENT.

Green River Association To Revise the Constitution.

Next Regular Meeting of the Association Will be in Owensboro on September 3.

A called meeting of the Green River Tobacco Growers' association of the A. S. of E. was held at Heflin with S. B. Robertson vice president, presiding.

A disastrous fire occurred at Greenville, Muhlenberg county, last Thursday night. The fire originated in the livery stable of R. A. Dennis, and the building was completely destroyed. The horses were saved, but all of the vehicles and feed and harness were consumed by the flames, entailing a heavy loss. The scene room occupied by William Hallinan, and the blacksmith shop of James Mayhugh were also burned.

Only recently waterworks were installed in Greenville and a volunteer fire company was organized. The company was prompt in responding and heroic efforts on the part of the members saved the business portion of the town from destruction. It is supposed that the fire was of incendiary origin. Mr. Dennis had partial insurance on his property, but his loss will be heavy.

It was moved that a committee of eight composed of one member from each county be appointed to revise the constitution and by laws of the Green River district society. The committee was appointed as follows: T. H. Baldwin of Daviess; B. Spencer of Hancock; George Barr, of Ohio; H. F. Fay of Spencer; Ernest Becker, of Warren; C. S. Ferguson, of Dubois, and W. E. Bibb, of McLean.

The president and secretary were also appointed members of this committee. The committee was instructed to meet on September 2 at the Columbus hotel in Owensboro. The next regular meeting of the association will be held here on September 3.

The following delegates were elected to the convention to be held at Bowling Green: J. W. Dunn and W. E. Bibb.

It was decided to devise means where by the society could control the "dumpers."—Owensboro Messenger.

Finis Baize Killed

Finis Baize, of Baileytown, fell from a train while returning from Central City some time Monday night and was killed. His mangled remains were found near the Lewis Creek bridge by the section men early yesterday morning. Mr. Baize had taken a load of watermelons to McHenry and after disposing of them went to Central City about 6 o'clock Monday evening and was returning home some time Monday night when the fatal accident occurred. He leaves a wife and two children.

The jury empannelled by the Coroner returned the following verdict:

We the jury after being duly sworn by Jerome Allen, the coroner of Ohio county, and after hearing the testimony, find this is the body of Finis Baize, which has been run over by a north bound train sometime during the night preceding August 11th, near a gum tree on the I. C. R. R. about one-half mile south of mile post 114 in Ohio county, Kentucky.

(Signed) Charles A. Smith Foreman, Willie Moore, Will Blackburn, J. L. Souhard, L. T. Wright, Lum Hudson, Sylvia Baize and Albert Watson testified that they identified the body as that of Finis Baize. Lum Givings and Jim Robinson stated that they found the remains on the track and from its position they were able to testify the same was run over by a north bound train. Clinton Smith says that he saw the remains removed from the track by John Williams, section foreman, who lives at Rockport, Ky.

Sudden Death,

News was received here Wednesday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Cassie Riley Hilliard at her home in Fredonia, Ky. Mrs. Hilliard is the daughter of Mr. J. C. Riley and was married only about a year ago. She died very suddenly, having eaten a hearty meal a few hours before. She was supposed to have eaten something which caused acute indigestion. Her remains were brought here yesterday, and the funeral will be conducted by Eld. Wright at the home of her father, this morning after which the burial will take place at Oakwood.

The unexpected death of Mrs. Hilliard was a severe shock to her relatives, and has cast a gloom over the entire town, as she was a favorite among all her acquaintances.

The family has the deepest sympathy in making this the best session of the entire town.

Notice.

All persons having claims against the estate of B. N. Stroud deceased will present same to the undersigned properly proven on or before the 1st day of September, 1908 or they will be forever barred.

T. H. BENTON, agent, of heirs of B. N. STROUD.

Callings From the Tri-County Baptist.

We have not been a citizen of Hartford many months but if an outsider had told us that many intelligent cultured men and women in Hartford preferred to attend a wild west show than to hear one of our great Baptist leaders in Kentucky speak at the house of God, we would have given the statement a prompt and emphatic denial; but after last Monday night's meeting we will be forced to hang K. Cox and receive reward.

Lost.

A gentleman's gold ring with three granet sets. Finder will return to S. James Shively and family visit at Mr. J. B. Ward's Sunday.

Prof. A. P. Thomas and wife of Providence were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Haynes, Saturday night.

Mr. Ben Ramsey of Calhoun is visiting his sister Mrs. Annie Pate.

Mrs. Maggie Cunningham of Chicago is the guest of Mrs. P. H. Haffey this week.

One of the earliest rains of the season fell here last Friday.

COMING TO HARTFORD, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, HAAGS' MIGHTY TRAINED ANIMAL SHOWS.

Positively the Biggest Overland Show in the World. A Mile Long Free Street Parade at Noon on Day of Exhibition. DON'T MISS IT.

GOMPERS GOES OUT FOR BRYAN

And He Will Feel the Pulse of Organized Labor

As to Getting into the Campaign
As Body--Other Criticism

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor has gone to Lima, Ohio, to make a speech, presumably of a political nature. From there he will go to Columbus to speak again. The program is taken to mean that Gompers intends to get into the thick of the contest for the Presidency.

It is Gompers's plan to conduct an active canvas for Mr. Bryan. His object in traveling about the country is twofold:

First to make converts to the Democratic cause and second to feel the pulse of organized labor on the subject of getting into the campaign as such. He believes he can accomplish effective work in behalf of the Democratic nominee, although he objects to the charge that he is seeking to "deliver" the labor vote to Mr. Bryan.

Labor leaders continue to inveigle against his political activities. The latest to make public protest is Frank A. Kidd, President of the Columbia Typographical Union of Washington, who speaking of the indorsement of Mr. Bryan by the Central Labor Union said:

"This action was taken upon the recommendation of President Gompers and the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor. Viewed from the standpoint of unionism I believe it was most regrettable. The large majority of workingmen in this city will have little sympathy with it I think. The resolutions showed the recklessness of the men behind the movement to have the Democratic party indorsed. Mr. Gompers has said he recognizes the right of every laboring man to vote as his conscience may dictate, but at the same time he attempts to make individual preference impossible by declaring that the workingman who supports the Republican ticket will have to answer to his own conscience and his fellow workers. A man who can put a political proposition to his fellows as has Mr. Gompers proclaims himself more radical than reasonable."

"Mr. Gompers assumes to put antijunction above all other political considerations. I admit that organized labor at large would like to see the antijunction laws modified, but at the same time every level-headed laborer knows that it is more important to have work than have modified injunction laws. He may want his injunction laws carried out but he wants work more. The injunction, modified would be worth nothing to him without work. The unions are determined to press antijunction legislation before Congress and I know properly too. The records show that seldom have labor leaders been successful in carrying labor unions solidly for one side of political contest. Union members are like other men in resenting the assertion that their votes can be delivered to any political party."

The Best Pills Ever Sold.

"After doctoring 15 years for chronic indigestion, and spending over two hundred dollars, nothing has done me as much good as Dr. King's New Life Pill. Consider them the best pills ever sold," writes B. F. Ayscue, of Ingleside, N. C. Sold under guarantee to all druggists 25¢.

More Crime More Money

The essential disgrace of the convict lease system in Georgia lies in the fact that the State sells its services of the convicts, thus turning crime into a monetary asset. The more crime the more money! Lasses of the prisoners are naturally inclined to get as much work as possible out of their laborers, and so when the interesting felon's done with felonizing, his lot is not a very happy one. No mere modification of the present system which still preserves the principal of selling the convicts' labor will be sufficient to vindicate the civilization of the State what is needed is not a modification, but a radically system founded on a different principle.

But if the State foregoes the direct revenue from the sale of convicts in order to establish some less medieval institution, form what source will it collect a revenue correspondingly large? Some such question yearly comes up to complicate every proposal of reform.

We are not sure but that the answer to it in a very large number of cases is simply this. Get after the chronic tax dodgers individuals and corporations and make them pay in reality the proportionate amount of direct tax which your laws say that they should pay and which it is a polite fiction they do pay. We wonder how many millions there are in stock, bonds and cash legally susceptible taxation, and yet from which the state derives no revenue. Enough we should imagine to swing the balance in favor of more than one moral reform which is held up on the grounds that it will deprive the State of revenue.—Don Marquis, in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for August.

TAFT IN NO WAY RESPONSIBLE.

For Discharging the Negro Battalion Say President Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, August 7.—President Roosevelt in a statement issued late to-night, made it clear that the entire responsibility was his for the issuance of the original order discharging the battalion of negro soldiers for alleged participation in the Brownsville (Texas) rioting and the refusal to permit a suspension of that order.

The President to-night was shown the interview which was had to-day in Washington with General Henry C. Corbin U. S. A. (retired) in which General Corbin stated that no credit or blame in the matter rested with Mr. Taft. After reading the interview the President, through his Assistant Private Secretary, Rudolph Forster, gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

"General Corbin's statement is absolutely correct and it was entirely proper that he should make it.

"The substance of the message from the President which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the President's."

In his interview to-day General Corbin stated in substance that Mr. Taft was in no way responsible for the order discharging the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and that in doing so the Secretary of war had obeyed the direct order of the President. General Corbin then recounted the circumstances as they occurred and gave out the following:

SHIP WITHOUT SMOKE OR NOISE.

Plans for New War Demon About Perfected.

No Smokestacks, and Whole Deck will be Given Over to The Guns.

The war vessel of the future will be a swift, smokeless noiseless craft, lying low in the water with every vulnerable part below the water line, the entire deck being given over to the work of the guns. There will be no smoke, because there will be no smokestacks. In the night time there will be nothing to betray the presence of this invincible fighting demon to the enemy.

This prediction has been made by Robert Heywood Fernald mechanical engineer, who has for several years been connected with the fuel investigation of the United States geological survey.

Mr. Fernald believes that the gas engine, or the international combination motor, as it is called by engineers will be installed in naval vessels of the United States within the next few years.

"I expect to see the United States ahead of any nation in this innovation," said Mr. Fernald. "The gas engine, in my opinion is feasible on any vessel, because of its economy over the steam engine but it is especially desirable on the fight ship for the reason that it makes no smoke. The gas is generated in a producer which has no chimney and needs none. The coal is turned directly into gas, which goes straight to the engine."

"The elimination of the smoke is sufficient to call for the installation of the gas engine, yet there are many other features in favor. The vessel would have a free deck for the play of its big guns. There would be no towering stacks to puncture or destroy thus crippling the boat. Then it would be unnecessary to carry as much coal for the same power can be developed with one-third the amount of fuel that the steam engine uses."

"Of course, I do not expect to see the gas engine confined to the use of the navy. The fact that it shows the navy. The fact that it shows such economies will compel its installation in all sorts of vessels."

"One of the steam companies of the Great Lakes is about to take the initiative in this movement. Plans have been made for a freighter that will use a 2,000 horsepower gas engine."

It has also shown that the gas engine can develop more power from a low grade coal, such as the lignite of North Dakota, than the steam engine can with the same weight of the best bituminous coal.

The purpose of the government has not been to develop the gas engine, but to increase the efficiency in the utilization of the coal supply of the country which is now being used at an enormous rate. Experts declare that at the present increase in consumption that takes up the better of the coal supply will be gone before the close of the next century and that the nation will long before that feel the effect of the wanning supply. The government itself spends $10,000,000 yearly for coal and it was primarily to get the best results from this expenditure that the investigations of the gas producer and the gas engine was taken up.

The tests in the gas in the producer at the government plan have shown that many fuels of such low grads as to be practically valueless for steam furnace purposes, including slack coal bone coal and lignite, may be economically converted into producer of high commercial value. In this way lignite beds underlying form 20,000 to 30,000,000 acres of public lands heretofore supposed to have little or no commercial value, are shown to have a large value for power development. This is of importance to the west, and makes possible at great industrial development there.

Buckland's Arnica Salve Wins.
Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cochran, Ga., writes: "I had a bad sore come on the instep of my foot and could find nothing that would heal it until I applied Buckland's Arnica Salve. Less than half of a 25c box won the day for me by affecting a perfect cure. Sold under guarantee at all drug-gists."

John W. Gates's Fancies.

John Watch-Me Gates is constructing a golf course that is to cost $965,000. His race course will cost three times as much, and his automobile track 50 yards wide 3 miles long and constructed entirely of fabre will knock a large hole in $4,000,000. Gates is particularly fond of golf. Like Mr. Rockefeller he finds the game the finest exercise in the world and at

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach graw or foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, surpid liver with indigestion, &c., &c., Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. Bartholomew D. M. of New York; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Medical Practice; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Scientific Medicine; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Material Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Philadelphia; Seminary and Hospital of Dr. R. V. Price, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

At the same time the least wearying. Minister Wu talks foolishly about walking. No man should walk unless he is obliged to. There is no mental recreation in walking per se; but when going you get the benefit of a walk and at the same time occupy the mind.

Port Arthur will be a great resort for Northerners. Palm Beach must look to its laurels. John Watch-Me is big. He likes big enterprises. His casino at the Beach is to cost $600,000. His winter trains from New York

Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis &c., will be "editions de luxe."

SKIPPER'S FIGHT WITH WHALE.

Revolver Shots Failed to Stop Big Mammal's Attack on The Vessel.

From the deck of the little coating steamer Coos Bay Captain James Bowen waged a battle with a mammoth whale while is vessel was off Cayucos on the way up the coast. The whale was observed making straight for the steam and Bowen was obliged to put his vessel upon a different course to avoid collision with the mammal. Even this action of the skipper did not suffice to keep the Coos Bay out of danger, and drawing a revolver the Captain opened fire upon his enemy.

Twice he emptied the contents of the revolver's chambers, but the leaden missiles apparently had little effect upon the vessel. Finally in a last effort to escape from the whale the skipper of the steamer ordered full speed ahead, and gradually the Coos Bay kept ahead of her pursuer.

Speaking of the experience shortly after the Coos Bay's arrival in port one member of the crew said:

"For some moments it looked like the whale would surely hit us, and considerably excitement was caused aboard the ship. The mammal was all of 100 feet long and seemed of a particularly vicious species.

"Even when Captain Bowen discharged his revolver at the whale kept coming after us although the water was dyed with blood. But for the fact the old Coos Bay was able to crowd on a little steam we would have come into port with some scars where the whale hit us with his flukes.

"The first time we caught sight of the whale was off Cayucos and it kept following us right along the coast sometimes almost abreast of the ship and but a hundred yards off."

Bird Slaughter.

It is estimated that to supply the plumage for ladies' hats and other decorations demands the sacrifice yearly of 300,000,000 birds. Paris milliners receive annually about 40,000 sea gulls.

Last year a London house so we learn from a Paris paper supplied 32,000 humming birds 80,000 sea birds of various species. Nothing need be said as to the loss to agriculture by the indiscriminate destruction of birds and in some countries certain species have ceased to exist. Among them are included the Labrador duck, the Auckland rail, the Reunion starling the bullfinch of the Azores. For some reason, possibly to preserve the beauty of the feathers they are we are told, frequently plucked from live birds.

London Globe.

MONEY PANIC IN BRYAN CAMP

$500,000 Needed and But Little on Hand.

Disdain for Contributions From The Rich Leaves Cash Box Empty

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug 7.—The wherewithal with which to conduct the Democratic campaign was the momentous question under discussion at Fairview to-day. It has been fully realized that a properly conducted campaign requires adequate funds to pay the legitimate expenses, but the question of who is to put up the money is one which has been the subject of more or less discussion ever since the nominations at Denver were made.

While it is admitted that from a number of sources individual contributions of considerable size will be made the decision has been reached that the bulk of the fund is expected to come from the masses.

A sum not less than $500,000 is regarded as necessary to meet expenses of the campaign.

The matter was talked over at great length to-day by Mr. Bryan with former Senator R. F. Pettigrew, of South Dakota, a member of the Finance Committee, and tonight with Gov. C. N. Haskell Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

The decision was reached that the Finance Committee should meet in Chicago next Monday at once on the work of organization and of perfecting plans for raising the necessary means for the campaign.

Mr. Pettigrew came to Fairview direct from New York, where he was in conference with Chairman Mack and other leaders of the party.

"Not all the Democrats I met," said Mr. Pettigrew, "will support Mr. Bryan but their defection will have no effect on the result because the Democrats are nearer together than ever before. New York is certainly Democratic this year.

"I found many Democrats of great wealth who heretofore were opposed to our candidates but this year they are with us. These men who acquired their money honestly intended to lend substantial financial aid to our cause."

As the result of the visit of Mr. Pettigrew, which lasted about the entire day it was disclosed that Mr. Bryan contemplates still another change in his program. The plan now is that following his speech at Topeka he will proceed direct to Mitchell, S. D. at which place he will deliver an address on August 29.

A Grand family Medicine.

"It gives me pleasure to speak a good word for Electric Bitters," writes Mr. Frank Conlan of No. 436 Houston St., New York. It's a grand family medicine for dyspepsia and liver complications; while for lame back and weak kidneys it cannot be too highly recommended." Electric Bitters regulate the digestive functions, purify the blood, and impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at all druggist 50c.

Differ But Don't Argue.

It is only Anglo-Saxons who feel that it is not necessary to fight merely because they widely differ. This truth was stated by a man of vast experience in countries of the world.

If it is true in a political and moral sense why couldn't it be a maxim to be studied by all of us?

Much of the friction of life much of the bitterness and unjust criticism could be avoided by keeping to the truth of this statement.

Why argue with any on who differs from us? What good does it do? What court of high appeal is there to prove that we are in the right and that others are in the wrong.

That woman is to be dreaded as a friend a relative or a companion who goes through life trying to convince and convert every one who thinks differently from her on any question, from cookery to calculus.

This is an utterly different frame of mind from the one that makes us feel we are right in what we think and in what we do. The world would be a mighty feeble place to live in, and rapidly disintegrate if every one of us born into it didn't have an opinion and could be relied upon to stick to it.

It is all right to have a conviction, right or wrong, and to believe that is right 'cause it is yours but there is no excuse or palliation for the fault of tilting a lance at every one who thinks another way.

If two women see different sides of an affair there is no reason why they should come to bitter words about it drop into personalities and each go off and call for help.

It is always in the power of one woman to keep a difference of opinion from becoming a fight of words. She can always state her side of the case listen more or less amiably to a different opinion and then desist from anything further.

There is no use trying to convince any one in a heated argument. This never worked out in political debate in friendly conversation.

If you would be happy in your own mind, you should make it a maxim for your guidance not to argue with whom you differ.

Refuse to do it. This isn't weakness. This is strength.—Plattsburgh Gazette.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and relieves Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulence. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

OUR CLUBBING RATES.

THE REPUBLICAN and Louisville Herald.....	$1.35
THE REPUBLICAN and Louisville Daily Herald.....	3.25
THE REPUBLICAN and Courier-Journal.....	1.50
THE REPUBLICAN and St. Louis Globe-Democrat.....	1.75
THE REPUBLICAN and Home and Farm.....	1.25
THE REPUBLICAN and Lippencott's and Cosmopolitan...	3.25
THE REPUBLICAN and Twice-a-Week Owensboro Inquirer	1.75
THE REPUBLICAN and Daily Owensboro Inquirer.....	3.75
THE REPUBLICAN and Twice-a-Week O'boro Messenger	1.75
THE REPUBLICAN and National Magazine.....	1.50
THE REPUBLICAN and Taylor-Trotwood Magazine.....	1.50
THE REPUBLICAN and New Idea Woman's Magazine...	1.35

Address all orders to THE REPUBLICAN.

29 YEARS

Of Honest Business Reputation is Back of Every

MONUMENT

SOLD BY US.

GEO. MISHEL & SONS,

PROPRIETORS

Owensboro Monumental Works

412-414 E. Main St. Yards 214-216-218 Clay St.,

OWENSBORO, KENTUCKY.

Get Our Prices and We Guarantee to Save You

Money on All Good Honest Work.

ONE OF THE FOUR HUNDRED

Poleless Wires Now.

A recent news item from Richmond Mo., says:

"Poleless wireless is the latest. D. C. Elliott professor of science in the Richmond High School in the basement of the school yesterday heard a strange clicking. Investigating he traced the noise to a wireless telegraph instrument he had made to instruct his pupils. The machine was stored in the basement while not in use.

Prof. Elliott sent for a telegrapher, who by means of the basement apparatus succeeded in reading messages going from wireless stations at Santa Cruz Cal., to Oklahoma City, Ok. He also responded to the queries made by the wireless operators when they found the new station on the line, and told them the Richmond station had no lofty pole or wires and was home-made."

Styles of Woolens is waiting your choice at our place. We can suit the most particular man. Come over to our place as soon as possible and we will certainly make it interesting for you without even asking for your order. We have the nerve to think that you will ask us to measure you up even without saying a word to you about it, because our samples and prices talk for themselves. We also clean laries and gentlemen's clothes in a satisfactory way.

CLUB RATE $1.00 PER MONTH

Don't Forget the Place,

THE PANTORIUM,

WILLIAM ROBERTSON, Prop.

Hartford Republican.

C. M. BARNETT & C. E. SMITH EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS

TELEPHONES.
Cumberland..... 40.
Mough River..... 22.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,
HON. WILLIAM H. TAFT,
of Ohio.

For Vice President,
HON. JAMES S. SHERMAN,
of New York.

For Member of Congress Fourth Dist.,
DR. DAVID W. GADDIE,
of La Rue County.

Mr. Gompers seems to have some difficulty in delivering the goods.

This is a good time for the Democratic rooster to crow. He will not feel like it later on.

It seems that Mr. Bryan's veto on contributions beyond $10,000 has thus far been strictly observed.

The Campaign is now on in earnest. Col. Watterson has begun writing seven column paragraphs on the situation

Is there any reason why the farm vote should be impressed with Bryan theories this year, or why farmers should be willing to risk a Bryan administration?

Party lines don't count for much these days. President Roosevelt recently appointed a Democrat to his Cabinet and not long ago he also appointed J. C. S. Blackburn Governor of the Canal Zone.

Labor will not vote for the party which proposes to put it out of work or on a footing with the cheap European workers. The injunction question does not make much difference to a man out of a job.

If there is an empty dinner, pail, was it caused by the adoption of Bryan's principles by the present administration? If so, how much will conditions be improved by accepting Bryan, principles and all?

It is a good sign when complaint is made that both parties will not be able to submerge themselves with campaign money. The voter who cannot make his choice without the aid of money, should not have a right to make a choice.

The Democrats have put up a machine candidate for Governor in Missouri and it is thought this insures the State of the Republican again, as they have nominated Attorney General Hadley, who made such a fight against the Standard Oil Co.

Some Democratic papers are still insisting that Roosevelt has stolen the Bryan platform, and is putting it into effect, and at the same time charge the panic to the Republican party. However, only a few continue to do this. Most of them see how ridiculous it must appear to their readers.

The Central City Argus, the organ of Hon. R. Y. Thomas who is opposing Congressman James for re-election has begun its old vulgar abuse which gave Dr. James so many votes two years ago. It is safe to predict that it will be a valuable aid to the third district Republicans again this year.

The Democratic Judicial District Committee has called a snap primary, a year in advance of the election, and proposes to keep the judiciary in politics. The Hartford Herald seems to have made no effort to prevent this notwithstanding its invitation a few weeks ago, to Republicans to join in and make it non-partisan.

Under the Democratic primary election call for this judicial district a candidate for Circuit Judge must put up $500, and an aspirant to be Commonwealth's Attorney must plank down $300 to the Committee in order to get a "look in." With this rule no poor man can comply. The Salary of the Attorney is only $500 per year, and he is asked to put up more than half and the candidate for judge must give up one sixth to get a try. The truth is there will be no primary and these amounts were purposely fixed sufficiently high to scare away prospective candidates.

FREE-TRADE AND CRIME.

With the raising of the standard of living during the eleven years of the Dingley Tariff act, there has been a decrease in crime or its disappearance is largely influenced by mode of living. It is one of the chief glories of Protection that it has steadily raised the standard of living of American wage earners.

Farmers and the Campaign Fund.

In the amateurish play to the galleries that Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern make in the form of the joint appeal for small contributions, there occurs this paragraph:

There are hundreds of thousands of farmers who are abundantly able to contribute to the campaign fund. There are thousands who can give $100 apiece without feeling it, there are tens of thousands who could give $50 apiece without sacrifice, and still more who could give $25, or 10 of $5. As the National Committee has not yet been organized we ask the "Commoner" to call for subscriptions to this farmers' fund. The farmers' fund will be turned over to the National Committee as soon as its permanent officers have been selected. Who will be the first to respond? How many farmers will join in furnishing the fund necessary to present the issues?

At a guess we should say very few farmers indeed. There are admittedly "hundreds of thousands of farmers abundantly able to contribute." Indeed the prosperity of the American farmer can hardly be overstated. But that prosperity will not move him to contribute to help elect Bryan or any other Democratic candidate. For it is the result not only of Nature's bounty but of twelve years of Republican rule, and is the most complete possible refutation of the Democratic claim that the prosperity of the manufacturing industries under the Republican Tariff system is gained at the expense of the agricultural industries. The farmer's flushness, cited by Bryan and Kern as a reason for his contributing to their funds, is therefore the very thing that will most incline him to do the exact opposite. He will contribute not to the Bryan campaign fund, but to the Republican campaign fund, and he will not have to be solicited by Mr. Taft to do it either.—Pittsburgh Press.

Bryan and the Wool Growers.

McKinley was elected through a number of Rocky Mountain States which had voted for Cleveland. These States were Democratic because of the large mining population. They turned to McKinley on account of the severe punishment they had received by placing wool on the free list during the four years of the life of the Wilson Tariff act which on the theory of free raw material swept away the duty upon wool and this nearly destroyed the wool growing industry of the United States; and if it had not been saved by the Dingley act which stored the McKinley duties upon wool, the industry by the time would have been wiped out in the United States. Bryan hopes to carry Wisconsin, which is a wool growing State and the Rocky Mountain wool growing States which voted for Cleveland the last time. Apparently he expects the wool growers to overlook the fact that the Republican platform expresses and defines Protection to American industries, particularly mentioning the farmer, who is a wool grower.

Bryan's election would be a menace to the wool grower in two ways. The Democratic party has defined its attitude toward wool as a raw material although it is the finished product of the farmer. It takes a whole year to grow a fleece of wool, and in this climate, where sheep are fed in winter, they are of drops which represent labor and high-priced American labor, whereas the competitor of the American wool grower is the wool grower of the Southern Hemisphere (Australia, the Argentine Republic and South Africa) who has the advantage of perennial pasture, and owing to this advantage, the cost of wool growing is only one-half of that of the American wool grower who in the state enumerated have to feed their sheep in the winter.

Another way to destroy the American wool grower would be by the destruction of the American Woolen Company which consumes 40 per cent of American wool, on the ground that it is a trust. The American Woolen Company is composed of what were former some of the largest mills of the United States. They are thus what Bryan would denominate a "trust," and as his platform body declares that the products of trusts should be put on the free list he would destroy the market for what American wool he left.

Then, again, if, in order to strike at the trust, he removes the duty upon "manufactures of wool," he destroys the other 60 per cent of the independent mills outside or at American Woolen Company or in other words those that are not in the trust. The Bryan policy spells ruin alike to wool growers and wool manufacturers.

"We're Going to Win!"

This was the pervading feeling at Republican State headquarters in the Galt House yesterday as the Campaign

Committee came together for the first time to prepare for the launching of the 1908 campaign says Tuesday's Louisville Herald. All of the committee members were present and each brought an encouraging report of conditions in his portion of the State. The following were present during the meeting: R. M. Winn, Mt. Sterling chairman; J. L. McCoy of Lexington; D. C. Edwards, of London; J. H. Gilliam of Scottsville, and J. W. McCulloch, of Owensboro together with Secretary A. S. Bennett.

The first step of the committee was to appoint committee chairman for the various sections of the campaign work. Congressman D. C. Edwards who may fittingly be called the orator of the committee, was very appropriately selected to take charge of the speakers bureau. J. W. McCulloch and J. L. McCoy will attend to the financial end. Mr. McCoy will remain in Louisville during the entire campaign and will be at headquarters all the time.

Mr. Gilliam and Secretary Bennett will direct the organization department.

The advisory committees for all the districts have not been named. George Weissinger Smith and Clayton Blakey will be the advisers from the Louisville district, while it is announced that N. T. Howard, of Butler county will represent the Third district. The Advisory Committee members will be selected by the district organizations.

After the organization the committee went into an exhaustive discussion of the preliminary details of the campaign but at the conclusion it was stated that nothing definite had been determined other than the apportionment of work for the committee as stated above. Congressman Edwards stated that no definite time for the beginning of the real campaign had been decided on, but intimated that with the speakers to be sent by the National Speakers Bureau and the best of the local talent they would make whirlwind campaign in the oratorical line. The leaders will make an effort this year to carry the Republican majority in Mr. Edwards' old reliable Eleventh district above the 20,000 mark and they believe that it will be done. The district has passed the 19,000 mark several times, but has never quite reached a score of thousands.

The members of the committee returned to their homes last night but will assemble at the Galt House again Thursday afternoon or night when a definite date for the beginning of the season will be arranged for and additional preliminaries decided on.

The committee were congratulated on the good taste with which they have selected and decorated their headquarters. The little log cabin from which the campaign "coat of arms" was photographed is featured and above it photos of the Presidents all the way down from Washington to Roosevelt on the walls attest patriotism especially as the nation's chiefs are displayed without regard to party. Two small pennants one with a picture of Roosevelt and the other of Taft complete the decorations. The executive session yesterday was held in room 205 which will probably be dedicated as the conference room of the campaign.

FAIR VIEW.

Aug. 10.—Mrs. Sack White is dangerously ill with typhoid fever at this writing.

Mr. J. R. Wilson and wife, spent the day with Mr. R. B. Wilson and wife Sunday.

School has opened at this place. Miss E. G. Heavrin teacher.

Miss Myrtle Brown spent the day with Miss Bessie Acton Sunday.

Mr. Roscoe Acton and wife and two children visited Mr. Leslie Powers and wife of Dundee, last week.

Mr. Ed White's little boy, who fell out of a swing and injured his arm is slowly improving.

Mrs. J. R. Wilson spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Ola Weedman, Monday.

Miss Nancy Avery is visiting Mr. Jim Hughes and family this week.

Mrs. Mary Daniel of Narrows was called to the bedside of her sister Mrs. Sack White.

Mr. Alison Neighbors, went to Narrows on a business trip Monday.

COOPER SCHOOLHOUSE

Aug. 12.—The little infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Pirtle is quite sick at present.

Mr. D. L. Black who has been sick for several days is no better.

The Rev. G. W. Gordon visited relatives at Owensboro last week.

Mr. S. L. Stevens attended court at Harford last week.

Miss Ura Gordon is visiting in the Wyo neighborhood at present.

Several from this place are expecting to attend the Ohio county association at Harford Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. John Hamilton of the Sulphur Springs neighborhood visited G. W. Gordon and family Saturday night and Sunday.

C. W. Stevens and J. L. Allen made a flying trip to Butler County last Saturday.

The Rev. Love filled his regular appointment at Prentiss the second Sunday.

Miss Blanche Russell of Echos is the guest of Miss Grace Williams for a few days.

Mr. Jno. L. Lallinger left Saturday for Elizabethtown where he has a position with a Creamery.

Quite a number of people attended the ball game at Louisville Sunday.

Mrs. Jno. H. Barnes and family are visiting Mrs. Barnes parents in Louisville for a few days.

Mrs. C. P. Austin and children are spending a few days in Harford this week.

Messrs. J. P. Harrison and R. H.

SMALLHOU

Aug. 12.—Rev. Oldham of Breckenridge county preached at Smallhouse church Sunday.

Rev. Love of Beaver Dam, began a series of meetings at Equality church Monday evening.

Several of our people attended the Association at Harford Tuesday and Wednesday, among those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Calloway, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Cas Mason; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter.

S. E. Hunter returned home from a week's visit to Utica last Friday. He attended the Association at Utica last week and was present at the wedding of his brother Robert D. Hunter and Miss Achsah V. Howard which occurred August 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Howard.

Mr. Owen Hunter had the misfortune of getting his wagon badly demolished last week by the horses running, fortunately no one was hurt.

Born recently to Mrs. Ray Fullerton a daughter and to Mrs. S. W. Bilbro a boy.

Mrs. Sallie Drake was a guest of her daughter Mrs. Birdie Nichols last week at South Carrollton and attended the association at Utica.

Little Misses Mary and E. H. Barnard, Hartford, and master Samuel Kimbley Morton are the guests of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morton this week.

After the organization the committee went into an exhaustive discussion of the preliminary details of the campaign but at the conclusion it was stated that nothing definite had been determined other than the apportionment of work for the committee as stated above.

Congressman Edwards stated that no definite time for the beginning of the real campaign had been decided on, but intimated that with the speakers to be sent by the National Speakers Bureau and the best of the local talent they would make whirlwind campaign in the oratorical line.

The leaders will make an effort this year to carry the Republican majority in Mr. Edwards' old reliable Eleventh district above the 20,000 mark and they believe that it will be done.

The district has passed the 19,000 mark several times, but has never quite reached a score of thousands.

The members of the committee returned to their homes last night but will assemble at the Galt House again Thursday afternoon or night when a definite date for the beginning of the season will be arranged for and additional preliminaries decided on.

The committee were congratulated on the good taste with which they have selected and decorated their headquarters.

The little log cabin from which the campaign "coat of arms" was photographed is featured and above it photos of the Presidents all the way down from Washington to Roosevelt on the walls attest patriotism especially as the nation's chiefs are displayed without regard to party.

Several from here attended the base ball game at Sulphur Springs Sunday all reported a good time.

Little Miss Olivia Harrison visited her cousin Haffey Cecil at Whitesville, recently.

Little Walter Delbert Hair is ill at his writing.

Mr. Sam Shroder went to Owensboro Sunday.

ROSINE.

August 12.—We have had a fine rain at this place and crops are making rapid growth.

The people in this community are busy cutting and hauling logs to the new saw mill bought by Wilson and Combs.

Mr. Perry Crowder, who has been the guest of his family for the past three weeks returned to the oil fields Friday.

Mr. Nick Murphy and Jessie Cummings, of Olaton were in Rosine to day.

The picture man is here this week making pictures. He is getting lots of work to do.

Mrs. Minnie and Laide Ragland visit their father Mr. Virgil Stewart last Sunday.

Mr. Lee Sandefur was the guest of relatives near Manda a few days last week.

Mrs. J. N. Radley, Mr. and Mrs. J.

Taylor are attending the opening of the San Luis Valley Land Co. in Colorado.

Miss Addie Van Meter of Central City who has been visiting friends in town for the past few days has returned home.

Colorado Grant Wild West Show which exhibited in town Tuesday night was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The Colored camp meeting which is in progress at this place, gave an extra performance Sunday night by the deacons of the church getting into a fight over who should run the thing, both parties were taken to the lock up.

For Sale.

30 acres of timber consisting of Beech, Oak, and Gum within 2 1/2 miles of Hartford. Call on or address

B. F. BEAN.

Hartford Ky. 524.

HICKORY CHURCH.

Aug. 12.—We had a splendid rain here last Friday and Saturday which was highly appreciated.

Miss Lucy Rock and Mr. Herbert Hoover Horton, attended Sunday school at this place last Sunday.

Miss Mattie McSherry was the guest of Miss Alta Likens Saturday night a Sunday.

Miss Sophia Railey was the guest of her cousin Miss Pearl Leach last Saturday night.

Misses Mary Taylor Era Taylor and Miss Rosa Burmon attended the Owensboro Chautauqua last week.

Mr. C. N. Taylor made a flying trip to Louisville last week.

Miss Pearl Leach and Mr. George Austin attended church at Manda last Sunday.

Mrs. Lou Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Leach were the guests of Mr. H. F. Porter and family last Sunday.

Miss Sophia Railey was the guest of her cousin Cliff Davis Sunday.

Mr. T. L. Ragland and J. H. Railey went to Harford

Hartford Republican.

C. M. BARNETT & EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS
C. E. SMITH

TELEPHONES.
Cumberland.....40.
Rough River.....22.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,
HON. WILLIAM H. TAFT,
of Ohio.
For Vice President,
HON. JAMES S. SHERMAN,
of New York.
For Member of Congress Fourth Dist.,
DR. DAVID W. GADDIE,
of La Rue County.

Mr. Gompers seems to have some difficulty in delivering the goods.

This is a good time for the Democratic rooster to crow. He will not feel like it later on.

It seems that Mr. Bryan's veto on contributions beyond $10,000 has thus far been strictly observed.

The Campaign is now on in earnest. Col. Watterson has begun writing seven column paragraphs on the situation.

Is there any reason why the farm vote should be impressed with Bryan theories this year, or why farmers should be willing to risk a Bryan administration?

Party lines don't count for much these days. President Roosevelt recently appointed a Democrat to his Cabinet and not long ago he also appointed J. C. S. Blackburn Governor of the Canal Zone.

Labor will not vote for the party which proposes to put it out of work or on a footing with the cheap European workers. The injunction question does not make much difference to a man out of a job.

If there is an empty dinner, pail, was it caused by the adoption of Bryan's principles by the present administration? If so, how much will conditions be improved by accepting Bryan principles and all?

It is a good sign when complaint is made that both parties will not be able to submerge themselves with campaign money. The voter who cannot make his choice without the aid of money, should not have a right to make a choice.

The Democrats have put up a machine candidate for Governor in Missouri and it is thought this insures the State of the Republican again, as they have nominated Attorney General Hadley, who made such a fight against the Standard Oil Co.

Some Democratic papers are still insisting that Roosevelt has stolen the Bryan platform, and is putting it into effect, and at the same time charge the panic to the Republican party. However, only a few continue to do this. Most of them see how ridiculous it must appear to their readers.

The Central City Argus, the organ of Hon. R. Y. Thomas who is opposing Congressman James for re-election has begun its old vulgar abuse which gave Dr. James so many votes two years ago. It is safe to predict that it will be a valuable aid to the third district Republicans again this year.

The Democratic Judicial District Committee has called a snap primary, a year in advance of the election, and proposes to keep the judiciary in politics. The Hartford Herald seems to have made no effort to prevent this notwithstanding its invitation a few weeks ago, to Republicans to join in and make it non-partisan.

Under the Democratic primary election call for this judicial district, a candidate for Circuit Judge must put up $500, and an aspirant to be Commonwealth's Attorney must plank down $300 to the Committee in order to get a "look in." With this rule no poor man can comply. The Salary of the Attorney is only $500 per year, and he is asked to put up more than half and the candidate for judge must give up one sixth to get a try. The truth is there will be no primary and these amounts were purposely fixed sufficiently high to scare away prospective candidates.

FREE-TRADE AND CRIME.

With the raising of the standard of living during the eleven years of the Dingley Tariff act, there has been a decrease in crime in comparison with that of the period of the Wilson Tariff act, a conspicuous feature of which was the long lines of gaunt men and women waiting at the soup houses. Men who were out of employment they budded their families into single rooms whereas under the prosperous period of the Dingley Tariff act, many of these families have been able to occupy homes for their own families exclusively. The growth of crime or its disappearance is largely influenced by mode of living. It is one of the chief glories of Protection that it has steadily raised the standard of living of American wage earners.

Farmers and the Campaign Fund.

In the amateurish play to the galleries that Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern make in the form of the joint appeal for small contributions, there occurs this paragraph:

There are hundreds of thousands of farmers who are abundantly able to contribute to the campaign fund. Congressmen D. C. Edwards who may fittingly be called the orator of the committee, was very appropriately selected to take charge of the speakers' bureau. J. W. McCulloch and J. L. McCoy will attend to the financial end Mr. McCoy will remain in Louisville during the entire campaign and will be at headquarters all the time.

Mr. Gilliam and Secretary Bennett will direct the organization department.

The advisory committees for all the districts have not been named. George Weisinger Smith and Clayton Blakey will be the advisers from the Louisville district, while it is announced that N. T. Howard, of Butler county will represent the Third district. The Advisory Committee members will be understood to be selected by the district organizations.

After the organization the committees went into an exhaustive discussion of the preliminary details of the campaign but at the conclusion it was stated that nothing definite had been determined other than the apportionment of work for the committee as stated above. Congressman Edwards stated that no definite time for the beginning of the real campaign had been decided on, but intimated that with the speakers too be sent by the National Speakers Bureau and the best of the local talent they would make whirlwind campaign in the oratorical line. The leaders will make an effort this year to carry the Republican majority in Mr. Edwards' old reliable Eleventh district above the 20,000 mark and they believe that it will be done. The district has passed the 19,000 mark several times, but has never quite reached a score of thousands.

The members of the committee returned to their homes last night but will assemble at the Galt House again Thursday afternoon or night when a definite date for the beginning of the season will be arranged for and additional preliminaries decided on.

The committee were congratulated on the good taste with which they have selected and decorated their headquarters. The little log cabin from which the campaign "coat of arms" was photographed is featured and above it photos of the Presidents all the way down from Washington to Roosevelt on the walls attest patriotism especially as the nation's chiefs are displayed without regard to party. Two small pennants one with a picture of Roosevelt and the other of Taft complete the decorations. The executive session yesterday was held in room 205 which will probably be dedicated as the conference room of the campaign.

Committee came together for the first time to prepare for the launching of the 1908 campaign says Tuesday's Louisville Herald. All of the committee members were present and each brought an encouraging report of conditions in his portion of the State. The following were present during the meeting: R. M. Winn, Mt. Sterling chairman; J. L. McCoy of Lexington; D. C. Edwards, of London; J. H. Gilliam of Scottsville, and J. W. McCulloch, of Owensboro together with Secretary A. S. Bennett.

The first step of the committee was to appoint committee chairman for the various sessions of the campaign work. Congressman D. C. Edwards who may fittingly be called the orator of the committee, was very appropriately selected to take charge of the speakers' bureau. J. W. McCulloch and J. L. McCoy will attend to the financial end Mr. McCoy will remain in Louisville during the entire campaign and will be at headquarters all the time.

Mr. Gilliam and Secretary Bennett will direct the organization department.

The advisory committees for all the districts have not been named. George Weisinger Smith and Clayton Blakey will be the advisers from the Louisville district, while it is announced that N. T. Howard, of Butler county will represent the Third district. The Advisory Committee members will be understood to be selected by the district organizations.

After the organization the committees went into an exhaustive discussion of the preliminary details of the campaign but at the conclusion it was stated that nothing definite had been determined other than the apportionment of work for the committee as stated above. Congressman Edwards stated that no definite time for the beginning of the real campaign had been decided on, but intimated that with the speakers too be sent by the National Speakers Bureau and the best of the local talent they would make whirlwind campaign in the oratorical line. The leaders will make an effort this year to carry the Republican majority in Mr. Edwards' old reliable Eleventh district above the 20,000 mark and they believe that it will be done. The district has passed the 19,000 mark several times, but has never quite reached a score of thousands.

The members of the committee returned to their homes last night but will assemble at the Galt House again Thursday afternoon or night when a definite date for the beginning of the season will be arranged for and additional preliminaries decided on.

The committee were congratulated on the good taste with which they have selected and decorated their headquarters. The little log cabin from which the campaign "coat of arms" was photographed is featured and above it photos of the Presidents all the way down from Washington to Roosevelt on the walls attest patriotism especially as the nation's chiefs are displayed without regard to party. Two small pennants one with a picture of Roosevelt and the other of Taft complete the decorations. The executive session yesterday was held in room 205 which will probably be dedicated as the conference room of the campaign.

FAIR VIEW.

Aug. 10.—Mrs. Sack White is dangerously ill with typhoid fever at this writing. Mr. J. R. Wilson and wife, spent the day with Mr. R. B. Wilson and wife Sunday. School has opened at this place. Miss E. G. Heavrin teacher. Miss Myrtle Brown spent the day with Miss Bessie Action Sunday. Mr. Roscoe Action and wife and two children visited Mr. Leslie Powers and wife of Dundee, last week. Mr. Ed White's little boy, who fell out of a swing and injured his arm is slowly improving. Mrs. J. R. Wilson spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Ola Weedman, Monday. Miss Nancy Awtry is visiting Mr. Jim Hughes and family this week. Mrs. Mary Daniel of Narrows was called to the bedside of her sister Mrs. Sack White. Mr. Alison Neighbors, went to Narrows on a business trip Monday.

COOPER SCHOOLHOUSE

Aug. 12.—The little infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Pirie is quite sick at present.

Mr. D. L. Black who has been sick for several days is no better.

The Rev. G. W. Gordon visited relatives at Owensboro last week.

Mr. S. L. Stevens attended court at Hartford last week.

Miss Ura Gordon is visiting in the Wysox neighborhood at present.

Several from this place are expecting to attend the Ohio county association at Hartford Tuesday and, Wednesday.

Mr. John Hamilton of the Sulphur Springs neighborhood visited G. W. Gordon and family Saturday night and Sunday.

C. W. Stevens and J. L. Allen made a flying trip to Butler County last Saturday.

The Rev. Love filled his regular appointment at Prentiss the second Sunday.

Committee came together for the first time to prepare for the launching of the 1908 campaign says Tuesday's Louisville Herald. All of the committee members were present and each brought an encouraging report of conditions in his portion of the State. The following were present during the meeting: R. M. Winn, Mt. Sterling chairman; J. L. McCoy of Lexington; D. C. Edwards, of London; J. H. Gilliam of Scottsville, and J. W. McCulloch, of Owensboro together with Secretary A. S. Bennett.

The first step of the committee was to appoint committee chairman for the various sessions of the campaign work. Congressman D. C. Edwards who may fittingly be called the orator of the committee, was very appropriately selected to take charge of the speakers' bureau. J. W. McCulloch and J. L. McCoy will attend to the financial end Mr. McCoy will remain in Louisville during the entire campaign and will be at headquarters all the time.

Mr. Gilliam and Secretary Bennett will direct the organization department.

The advisory committees for all the districts have not been named. George Weisinger Smith and Clayton Blakey will be the advisers from the Louisville district, while it is announced that N. T. Howard, of Butler county will represent the Third district. The Advisory Committee members will be understood to be selected by the district organizations.

After the organization the committees went into an exhaustive discussion of the preliminary details of the campaign but at the conclusion it was stated that nothing definite had been determined other than the apportionment of work for the committee as stated above. Congressman Edwards stated that no definite time for the beginning of the real campaign had been decided on, but intimated that with the speakers too be sent by the National Speakers Bureau and the best of the local talent they would make whirlwind campaign in the oratorical line. The leaders will make an effort this year to carry the Republican majority in Mr. Edwards' old reliable Eleventh district above the 20,000 mark and they believe that it will be done. The district has passed the 19,000 mark several times, but has never quite reached a score of thousands.

The members of the committee returned to their homes last night but will assemble at the Galt House again Thursday afternoon or night when a definite date for the beginning of the season will be arranged for and additional preliminaries decided on.

The committee were congratulated on the good taste with which they have selected and decorated their headquarters. The little log cabin from which the campaign "coat of arms" was photographed is featured and above it photos of the Presidents all the way down from Washington to Roosevelt on the walls attest patriotism especially as the nation's chiefs are displayed without regard to party. Two small pennants one with a picture of Roosevelt and the other of Taft complete the decorations. The executive session yesterday was held in room 205 which will probably be dedicated as the conference room of the campaign.

Mr. Lella Fulkerson was a guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hunter Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drake attended the association Tuesday at Hartford.

Mr. Jennie Ross and son, Ben are the guests of relatives in Hartford.

SMALLHOU

Aug. 12.—Rev. Oldham of Breckinridge county preached at Smallhouse church Sunday.

Rev. Love of Beaver Dam, began a series of meetings at Equality church Monday evening.

Several of our people attended the Association at Hartford Tuesday and Wednesday, among those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Calloway, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. S. Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Caz Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter.

S. E. Hunter returned home from a week's visit to Utica last Friday.

He attended the Association at Utica last week and was present at the wedding of his brother Robert D. Hunter and Miss Achsah V. Howard which occurred August 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Howard.

Mr. Owen Hunter had the misfortune of getting his wagon badly demolished last week by the horses running, fortunately no one was hurt.

Born recently to Mrs. Ray Fulkerson a daughter and to Mrs. S. W. Bilbrey a boy.

Mrs. Sallie Drake was a guest of her daughter Mrs. Birdie Nichols last week at South Carrollton and attended the association at Utica.

Little Misses Mary and Ethel Barnard, Hartford, and master Samuel Kimbley Morton are the guests of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morton this week.

Mr. Oppie Kittinger is having the foundation laid for a new dwelling house.

Mrs. Lella Fulkerson was a guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hunter Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drake attended the association Tuesday at Hartford.

Mr. Jennie Ross and son, Ben are the guests of relatives in Hartford.

BARRETT'S FERRY.

Aug. 12—Farmers in this community are very busy cutting tobacco.

Mrs. Sallie White of near here died yesterday of typhoid fever her remains will be interred at the family burying ground today.

School at this place is progressing nicely with Miss Annie Daniel teacher.

Miss Comma Wedding, who has been visiting friends at Owensboro for the last week returned home Sunday.

Mr. Rowe Harrison and family was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Mangan Sunday.

Several from here attended the baseball game at Sulphur Springs Sunday all reported a good time.

Little Miss Olivia Harrison visited her cousin Haffey Cecil at Whitesville, recently.

Little Walter Delbert Hair is ill at his writing.

Mr. Sam Shroder went to Owensboro Sunday.

ROSINE.

August 12.—We have had a fine rain at this place and crops are making rapid growth.

The people in this community are busy cutting and hauling logs to the new saw mill bought by Wilson and Combs.

Mr. Perry Crowder, who has been the guest of his family for the past three weeks returned to the oil fields Friday.

Mr. Nick Murphy and Jessie Cummings, of Olaton were in Rosine today.

Mr. Len Leach visited relatives at Horse Branch last week.

Misses Ethel and Ruth Hammons was the guests of Miss Ollie Ragland last Sunday.

Mr. Lee Sandefur was the guest of relatives near Manda a few days last week.

Mrs. J. N. Radley, Mr. and Mrs. J.

Mr. Artie Hines visited her aunt Mrs. Victoria Wilson last Sunday evening.

All the children at this place have the whooping cough at this writing.

Mrs. Minnie and Laide Ragland visited Artie Hines last Tuesday.

School is progressing nicely.

BEAVER DAM.

Miss Nell G. Austin who has been spending a few days with her mother here returned home Sunday. She was accompanied by her mother Mrs. F. O. Austin.

Miss Dora Wallace of Leitchfield is in town.

Messrs V. M. Stewart and E. J. Tildford are attending the Fair at Morganfield this week.

Miss May Bir is attending the Owensboro Chautauqua.

Mrs. W. T. McKenney and daughter Ella left Thursday for Louisville where they will spend a few days making a trip to Niagara Falls and other points before returning home.

Miss Blanche Russell of Echols is the guest of Miss Grace Williams for a few days.

Mr. Jno. L. Lallinger left Saturday for Elizabethtown where he has a position with a Creamery.

Quite a number of people attended the ball game at Louisville Sunday.

Mrs. Jno. H. Barnes and family are visiting Mrs. Barnes parents in Louisville for a few days.

Mrs. C. P. Austin and children are spending a few days in Hartford this week.

Messrs. J. P. Harrison and R. H.

Taylor are attending the opening of the San Luis Valley Land Co. in Colorado.

Miss Addie Van Meter of Central City who has been visiting friends in town for the past few days has returned home.

Colorado Grant Wild West Show which exhibited in town Tuesday night was enjoyed by a large

RESOLVED
THAT OUR SHOES ARE MADE ON
A LAST THAT LASTS. WE WON'T SELL
YOU A SHOE YOU WILL NOT BE SATISFIED WITH. IT WON'T PAY US TO DO SO.

copyright 1907
by R. F. Outcault, N.Y.

WEAR. LOOKS. COMFORT.

THESE ARE THE THREE THINGS YOU WANT IN A SHOE. WE KNOW THAT OUR SHOES WEAR WELL, BECAUSE WE HAVE TRIED THEM. COME IN AND TRY ON A PAIR OF OUR SHOES AND YOU WILL SEE FOR YOURSELF THAT THEY LOOK GOOD AND FEEL GOOD. WE ARE THE EXCLUSIVE AGENTS IN HARTFORD FOR THE FOLLOWING CELEBRATED SHOES:

HAMILTON-BROWN, PRIESMEYERS, COURNEY'S FULL VAMP SHOES, AND PATRICIAN FOR LADIES. ELEFANT LINE OF SCHOOL SHOES FOR CHILDREN OF ALL AGES.

THE QUALITY OF OUR SHOES IS HIGH, BUT THE PRICES ARE NOT. MEN'S SHOES FROM $1.25 TO $4.00. LADIES' SHOES FROM $1.00 TO $4. SCHOOL SHOES FROM 75¢ TO $1.50. BE SURE TO CONSULT US FOR YOUR FALL FOOTWEAR.

RESPECTFULLY,

FAIR & CO.
THE FAIR DEALERS

Hartford Republican.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14.

Illino is Central Railroad--Time Table.

North Bound.
No. 121 due 4:05 a. m.
No. 122 due 12:30 p. m.
No. 102 due 2:48 p. m.

South Bound.
No. 121 due 11:31 a. m.
No. 101 due 2:48 p. m.
No. 131 due 8:52 p. m.

Typewriter Carbon can be had at this office.

Mrs. A. S. Yewell is visiting relatives in Owensboro.

Mr. Ira Bear returned from a business trip in the South, yesterday.

For Sale.—A practically new Mogul log-wagon, A. A. Sheffield, Hartford, Ky.

Miss Maude Richmond, of Calhoun, is the guest of Misses Edna and Annie Hudson, city.

Mrs. L. E. Everly, Matauzas is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Bennett, city.

Would like to rent two furnished rooms for light house keeping. Address Box 375, Hartford, Ky.

Jerome Allen, Coroner, Hartford, R. F. D. No. 1, will answer phone at A. J. Carter's Concord, any hour, 11 a. m.

Mrs. Kate Hill, Central City, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Pendleton during the Association.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunter, Smallhous, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hawkins, city, Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. Balsell is very ill at the home of Mr. A. D. White and his death is believed to be only a question of a few hours.

Mr. Julian Elgin, who is very ill at the home of his father, Rev. Virgil Elgin, is gradually growing weaker, and it is not thought that he can recover.

For Sale—Dwelling, story and half, eight rooms, new, located South side Clay street, Hartford, Ky. Price and terms reasonable. For particulars call on BARNETT & SMITH.

Messrs. Ulysses Whalin and S. M. Dexter have arranged to give a grand barbecue at Ross' grove near Center- town, Saturday, August 29. A colt show, base ball and many other features are scheduled.

Sheriff R. B. Martin, S. A. Bratcher, Lon Ralph and C. E. Smith, Hartford, and Phoebe McHenry, Beaver Dam, attended the funeral and burial of Hon. C. C. Beard, at Fordsville, yesterday.

Messrs. Byron Miles and Robert Wooster, Fordsville, were among our callers last Friday.

Lost—Between Chester Rowe's and G. D. Heflin's, ladies purse containing $4.50. Return to Mrs. Sarah C. Stroud Center- town, Ky.

For Sale—Nine volumes Kentucky Deces- sion, in first-class condition. Embrace opinions of Kentucky Court of Appeals reported in South Western Reporter from volume 63 to 101 inclusive.

BARNETT & SMITH.
4th Hartford, Ky.

Mr. Frank Hamilton who returned a few days ago on account of sickness from Western Kentucky where he had been in the Military service in Co. H, N. G. since the first of June died at his home near Adaburg last Friday morning. He was suffering from a well developed case of typhoid fever when he arrived home and gradually grew worse until the end came. His remains were interred Friday afternoon at Mt. Moriah cemetery. Mr. Hamilton was one of the county's most popular teachers besides being a young man of exceptional personal worth. The surviving family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Program.
Program for Magisterial Sunday School Convention to be held in M. E. Church at Center- town, Ky., the 5th Sunday in August, 1908.

Work to begin at 1 p. m.
Opening song by choir.

Prayer by J. A. Renner.

Call to order by District President.

Some apparent needs of the Sunday School—General discussion, led by U. S. Faught.

Song by choir.

Appointment of nominating committee.

Reports of schools represented.

Some forward movement plans, by Chas. Overton, Dr. E. W. Ford and H. H. Davis.

How to teach Biography, by Alvin Ross, W. E. Caloway and J. C. Jackson.

Report of nominating committee and election.

Song.

What is Sunday School and why have it? by L. W. Tichenor, J. A. Renner and E. J. Ashby.

Using our opportunities, by E. M. Morton, Foster McHenry and W. P. Ashby.

Closing address by O. M. Bishop.

All interested in better Sunday Schools, are invited to be present and take part in the work.

O. M. BISHOP, Dist. Pres.

H. H. Davis, Sec.

CENTER- TOWN.

Aug. 13.—Miss Mary McHenry is visiting her sister Mrs. E. Brown of Cromwell.

Mrs. W. C. Smith and Miss Blanche Johnson are visiting friends in Bowling Green.

Mrs. B. J. McHenry is at home again after making a visit to her parents in Maxwell.

Mr. Si Wade and wife of Cromwell are here visiting their son Louis Wade.

Mrs. Mike Bishop spent last week in Manzana the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Campbell.

L. M. Phipps is on the sick list, but not dangerously ill.

Charlie Renner of Renner visited his parents here Sunday.

James Baker is attending the fair in Hardsburg.

Mrs. D. Rose and daughter W. E. Ashby have returned from their visit to Dawson Springs.

Mr. S. A. Bilbro, is at home again his term in the U. S. Army having expired.

Thanks.

I want to thank the tax-payers of Ohio county for the courtesy they have shown me since I have been their Sheriff. I am now ready to receive their 1908 tax and will have to collect under the same law that I have been collecting under, so the sooner you get a tax receipt the better it will be for all. R. B. MARTIN, S. O. C.

NARROWS.

Aug. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Park, returned Tuesday from a week's visit with relatives at Owensboro.

Messrs. A. R. Renfrow and W. V. Renfrow were in Owensboro Wednesday.

Mr. R. M. Kuykendall is in Evansville.

H. F. Bean of Auburn visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Noble Bean the first of his week.

Mr. C. L. Arment and children, Louisville, were the guests of Mrs. Ida Renfrow the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stevens, Hartford, were visitors of the family of Mr. W. V. Renfrow Sunday.

Mr. Fletcher Hardiston of Big Clifty has moved his family here.

Miss Maude Carden is visiting in Fordsville this week.

Mr. John Greer and family of Owensboro, visited the family of Mrs. Maggie Powers Saturday and Sunday.

Rural Carriers R. M. Kuykendall and William Park are taking their annual leave. Substitute carriers Jesse Miles and C. J. Boswell are serving the routes in the absence of the regular carriers.

HOPEWELL.

Aug. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. H. King and little son, Paul of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting Mrs. King's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Taylor.

The protracted meeting has closed at this place.

Miss Jessie Taylor returned home Saturday from St. Louis, where she has been going to school for the past year.

The Paradise school began Monday week. Miss Polly Coleman teacher.

The jubilee school began Monday with Prof. Hallie Brown teacher and Miss Powell Jones assistant.

Rev. — Oldham filled his regular appointment at Pond Run first Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Taylor visited her mother Mrs. Sarah Hunley this week.

Mr. Press Smith Livermore, spent Sunday with his sister Mrs. Bessie Williams.

COOL SPRINGS.

Aug. 12.—Crops are looking fine since the rain.

Mr. Luther Rains and family visited Mr. N. A. Brown Sunday.

Mr. S. W. Hines and wife was the guest of Mr. Joe Rogers Sunday.

Uncle Mathias Neal has returned home after a week's visit at Mr. S. A. Davenport, Rochester.

Mr. George Growbarger and Mrs. Lee Mills of McHenry visited relatives at this place Sunday.

Mr. Hubert Baker of Echols is the guest of Mr. M. M. Tate this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rigidon Dunn and Mrs. Threlkel was the guest of Mrs. Agnes Tate Friday.

Mr. Charles Fulkerson and little son of McHenry, visited Mr. O. E. Scotts Thursday.

Mrs. Emma Wilson of Beaver Dam and Mrs. Fannie Scott and baby of this place visited their brother Mr. Willard Tanner of Rochester Sunday night and Monday.

Mrs. Manda Tichenor who has been quite sick is slowly improving.

Mr. Floyd Rogers of Butler county is the guest of his father Mr. Joe Rogers.

Report of nominating committee and election.

Song.

What is Sunday School and why have it? by L. W. Tichenor, J. A. Renner and E. J. Ashby.

Using our opportunities, by E. M. Morton, Foster McHenry and W. P. Ashby.

Closing address by O. M. Bishop.

All interested in better Sunday Schools, are invited to be present and take part in the work.

O. M. BISHOP, Dist. Pres.

H. H. Davis, Sec.

CENTER- TOWN.

Aug. 13.—Miss Mary McHenry is visiting her sister Mrs. E. Brown of Cromwell.

Mrs. W. C. Smith and Miss Blanche Johnson are visiting friends in Bowling Green.

Mrs. B. J. McHenry is at home again after making a visit to her parents in Maxwell.

Mr. Si Wade and wife of Cromwell are here visiting their son Louis Wade.

Mrs. Mike Bishop spent last week in Manzana the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Campbell.

L. M. Phipps is on the sick list, but not dangerously ill.

Charlie Renner of Renner visited his parents here Sunday.

James Baker is attending the fair in Hardsburg.

Mrs. D. Rose and daughter W. E. Ashby have returned from their visit to Dawson Springs.

Mr. S. A. Bilbro, is at home again his term in the U. S. Army having expired.

THURSDAY.

Aug. 11.—A protracted meeting began at Marvins Chapel the 3rd.

Mr. Mark Clark and daughter Miss Ethel returned to their home at Owensboro after a few days visit to his brother Mr. W. A. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Powers of Concord were the guests of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Powers, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. — Weatherford of Hardsburg, Ky., arrived Monday to be the guests of their son Mr. A. M. Weatherford for several days.

Mr. F. D. Baughn attended the association at Hartford yesterday.

Mr. J. A. Westerfield and family of Magan are the guests of Mr. F. D. Baughn and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elma Renfrow and daughter Miss Ruth of Hartford were the guests of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Renfrow Sunday.

HARTFORD COLLEGE

Opens Its Twenty-Eighth Session

August 24th, 1908.

With its large and growing facilities and its university trained faculty Hartford College offers advantages not to be found elsewhere at so small cost. The cost of board and tuition per year varies from $120 to $130 while to those who do light house keeping the cost varies from $60.00 to $70.00 per year. Students who desire to economize by keeping house are given every encouragement to do so.

Classes are not over crowded; hence students get individual help which they could not get in large institutions. For catalogues and information write to L. N. GRAY.

Hartford, Ky.

A STRONG HAUL!

Do you ever stop to think what a store stands for, and if the owners are looking for the best goods obtainable and not the "just as good" kind? We are willing to

"Show Our Hand."

We handle only goods that are well known. Whenever it is possible we handle brands which are in the greatest demand.

Some Special Lines.

Corliss Coon and Cluett Peobody Collars and Shirts.

Ladies' Home Journal Patterns. Finek's Detroit Special Overalls—"wear like a pig's nose."

Duchess Pants—"ten cents a button; one dollar a rip."

</div

RESOLVED
THAT OUR SHOES ARE MADE ON
A'LAST THAT LASTS. WE WONT SELL
YOU A SHOE YOU WILL NOT BE SATISFIED WITH. IT WONT PAY US TO DO SO.

copyright, 1907
by R. F. O'neal, N.Y.

WEAR. LOOKS. COMFORT.

THESE ARE THE THREE THINGS YOU WANT IN A SHOE. WE KNOW THAT OUR SHOES WEAR WELL, BECAUSE WE HAVE TRIED THEM. COME IN AND TRY ON A PAIR OF OUR SHOES AND YOU WILL SEE FOR YOURSELF THAT THEY LOOK GOOD AND FEEL GOOD. WE ARE THE EXCLUSIVE AGENTS IN HARTFORD FOR THE FOLLOWING CELEBRATED SHOES:

HAMILTON-BROWN, PRIESMEYERS, COURTENEY'S FULL VAMP SHOES, AND PATRICIAN FOR LADIES. ELEFANT LINE OF SCHOOL SHOES FOR CHILDREN OF ALL AGES.

THE QUALITY OF OUR SHOES IS HIGH, BUT THE PRICES ARE NOT. MEN'S SHOES FROM $1.25 TO $4.00. LADIES' SHOES FROM $1.00 TO $4. SCHOOL SHOES FROM 75¢ TO $1.50. BE SURE TO CONSULT US FOR YOUR FALL FOOTWEAR.

RESPECTFULLY,

FAIR & CO.
THE FAIR DEALERS

Hartford Republican.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14.

Illinois Central Railroad-Time Table.

NORTH BOUND.
No. 132 due 4:05 a.m.
No. 122 due 11:31 a.m.
No. 123 due 12:30 p.m.
No. 102 due 2:48 p.m.

SOUTH BOUND.
No. 121 due 11:31 a.m.
No. 101 due 2:48 p.m.
No. 131 due 8:52 p.m.

Typewriter Carbon can be had at this office.

Mrs. A. S. Yewell is visiting relatives in Owensboro.

Mr. Ira Bean returned from a business trip in the South, yesterday.

For Sale.—A practically new Mogul log-wagon, A. A. Sheffield, Hartford Ky. 11ft.

Miss Maude Richmond, of Calhoun, is the guest of Misses Edna and Annie Hudson, city.

Mrs. L. E. Everly, Matanzas is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Bennett city.

Would like to rent two furnished rooms for light house keeping. Address Box 375, Hartford, Ky. 21ft.

Jerome Allen, Coroner, Hartford, R. F. D. No. 1, will answer phone at A. J. Carter's Concord any hour, 11ft.

Mrs. Kate Hill, Central City, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Pendleton during the Association.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunter, Smallhous, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hawkins, city, Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. Balzell is very ill at the home of Mr. A. D. White and his death is believed to be only a question of a few hours.

Mr. Julian Elgin, who is very ill at the home of his father, Rev. Virgil Elgin, is gradually growing weaker, and it is not thought that he can recover.

For Sale—Dwelling, story and half, eight rooms, new, located South side Clay street Hartford, Ky. Price and terms reasonable. For particulars call on.

BARNETT & SMITH.

Messrs. Ulysses Whalin and S. M. Dexter have arranged to give a grand barbecue at Ross' grove near Center town, Saturday, August 29. A cotton show, base ball and many other features are scheduled.

Sheriff R. B. Martin, S. A. Bratcher, Lon Ralph and C. E. Smith, Hartford, and Phoebe McKenney, Beaver Dam, attended the funeral and burial of Hon. C. C. Beard, at Fordsville, yesterday.

Messrs. Byron Miles and Robert Wooster, Fordsville, were among our callers last Friday.

Lost—Between Chester Rowe's and G. D. Heflin's, ladies purse containing $4.50. Return to Mrs. Sarah C. Stroud, Centertown, Ky.

For Sale—Nine volumes Kentucky Decession, in first-class condition. Embrace opinions of Kentucky Court of Appeals reported in South Western Reporter from volume 63 to 101 inclusive.

BARNETT & SMITH.

411 Hartford, Ky.

Mr. Frank Hamilton who returned a few days ago on account of sickness from Western Kentucky where he had been in the Military service in Co. H. Ky., N. G. since the first of June died at his home near Adaburg last Friday morning. He was suffering from a well developed case of typhoid fever when he arrived home and gradually grew worse until the end came. His remains were interred Friday afternoon at Mt. Moriah cemetery. Mr. Hamilton was one of the county's most popular teachers besides being a young man of exceptional personal worth. The surviving family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Program.

Program for Magisterial Sunday School Convention to be held in M. E. Church at Centertown, Ky., the 5th Sunday in August, 1908.

Work to begin at 1 p.m.

Opening song by choir.

Prayer by J. A. Reeneer.

Call to order by District President. Some apparent needs of the Sunday School—General discussion, led by U. S. Faught.

Song by choir.

Appointment of nominating committee.

Reports of schools represented.

Some forward movement plans, by Chas. Overton, Dr. E. W. Ford and H. H. Davis.

How to teach Biography, by Alvin Ross, W. E. Caloway and J. C. Jackson.

Report of nominating committee and election.

Song

What is Sunday School and why have it? by L. W. Tichenor, J. A. Reeneer and E. J. Ashby.

Using our opportunities, by E. M. Morton, Foster McKenney and W. P. Ashby.

Closing address by O. M. Bishop.

All interested in better Sunday Schools, are invited to be present and take part in the work.

O. M. BISHOP, Dist. Pres.

H. H. Davis, Sec.

CENTERTOWN.

Aug. 13.—Miss Mary McKenney is visiting her sister Mrs. E. Brown of Cromwell.

Mrs. W. C. Smith and Miss Blanche Johnson are visiting friends in Bowling Green.

Mrs. B. J. McKenney is at home again after making a visit to her parents in Maxwell.

Mr. S. Wade and wife of Cromwell are here visiting their son Louis Wade.

Mrs. Mike Bishop spent last week in Matanzas the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Campbell.

L. M. Phipps is on the sick list, but not dangerously ill.

Charlie Rener of Render visited his parents here Sunday.

James Baker is attending the fair in Harrisburg.

Mrs. D. Rowe and daughter W. E. Ashby have returned from their visit to Dawson Springs.

Mr. S. A. Bilbro, is at home again his term in the U. S. Army having expired.

Thanks.

I want to thank the tax-payers of Ohio county for the courtesy they have shown me since I have been their Sheriff. I am now ready to receive their 1908 tax and will have to collect under the same law that I have been collecting under, so the sooner you get a tax receipt the better it will be for all. R. B. MARTIN, S. O. C.

NARROWS.

Aug. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Park, returned Tuesday from a week's visit with relatives at Owensboro.

Messrs. A. R. Renfrow and W. V. Renfrow were in Owensboro Wednesday.

Mr. R. M. Kuykendall is in Evansville.

Dr. H. F. Bean of Auburn visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Noble Bean the first of the week.

Mr. C. L. Armendt and children, Louisville, were the guests of Mrs. Ida Renfrow the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stevens, Hartford were visitors of the family of Mr. W. V. Renfrow Sunday.

Mr. Fletcher Hardiston of Big Cliffton has moved his family here.

Miss Maude Carden is visiting in Fordsville this week.

Mr. John Greer and family of Owensboro, visited the family of Mrs. Maggie Powers Saturday and Sunday.

Rural Carriers R. M. Kuykendall and William Park are taking their annual leave. Substitute carriers Jesse Miles and C. J. Boswell are serving the routes in the absence of the regular carriers.

HOPEWELL.

Aug. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. H. King and little son, Paul of St. Louis, Mo. are visiting Mrs. King's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Taylor.

The protracted meeting has closed at this place.

Miss Jessie Taylor returned home Saturday from St. Louis, where she has been going to school for the past year.

The Paradise school began Monday week. Miss Polly Coleman teacher.

The jubilee school began Monday with Prof. Hallie Brown teacher and Miss Powell Jones assistant.

Rev. — Oldham filled his regular appointment at Pond Run first Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Taylor visited her mother Mrs. Sarah Hunley this week.

Mr. Press Smith Livermore, spent Sunday with his sister Mrs. Bessie Williams.

COOL SPRINGS.

Aug. 12.—Crops are looking fine since the rain.

Mr. Luther Rains and family visited Mr. N. A. Brown Sunday.

Mr. S. W. Hines and wife was the guest of Mr. Joe Rogers Sunday.

Uncle Mathias Neal has returned home after a weeks visit at Mr. S. A. Davenport, Rochester.

Mr. George Growbarger and Mrs. G. Lee Mills of McHenry visited relatives at this place Sunday.

Mr. Hubert Baker of Echols is the guest of Mr. M. T. Tate this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Riddon Dunn and Mrs. Threlkel was the guest of Mrs. Agnes Tate Friday.

Mr. Charles Fulkerson and little son of McHenry, visited Mr. O. E. Scott Thursday.

Mrs. Emma Wilson of Beaver Dam and Mrs. Fannie Scott and baby of this place visited their brother Mr. Will, Tanner of Rochester Sunday night and Monday.

Mrs. Manda Tichenor who has been quite sick is slowly improving.

Mr. Floyd Rogers of Butler county is the guest of his father Mr. Joe Rogers.

Life is What We Make It.

Let's often talk of noble deeds, And rarer of the bad ones, And sing about our happy days, And not about the sad ones.

We were not made to fret and sigh, And when grief sleeps to wake it, Bright happiness is standing by. This life is what we make it.

Let's find the sunny side of men, Or the believers in it; A light there is in every soul, That takes the pains to win it.

Oh, there's a slumbering good in all, And we perchance may wake it; Our hands contain the Magic wand This life is what we make it.

Then here's to those whose loving hearts, Shed light and joy about them. Thanks be to them for countless gems. We ne'er had known without them.

Oh, this should be a happy world, To all who may partake it; The faults our own if it is not. This life is what we make it.

SUNNYDALE.

Aug. 11.—A protracted meeting began at Marvin's Chapel the 3d.

Mr. Mark Clark and daughter Miss Ethel returned to their home at Owensboro after a few days visit to his brother Mr. W. A. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Powers of Concord were the guests of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Powers, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. — Weatherford of Hardinsburg, Ky., arrived Monday to be the guests of their son Mr. A. M. Weatherford for several days.

Mr. F. D. Baugh attended the association at Hartford yesterday.

Mr. J. A. Westerfield and family of Magan are the guests of Mr. F. D. Baugh and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elma Renfrow and daughter Miss Ruth of Hartford were the guests of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Renfrow Sunday.

HARTFORD COLLEGE

Opens Its Twenty-Eighth Session

August 24th, 1908.

With its large and growing facilities and its university trained faculty Hartford College offers advantages not to be found elsewhere at so small cost. The cost of board and tuition per year varies from $120 to $130, while to those who do light house keeping the cost varies from $60.00 to $70.00 per year. Students who desire to economize by keeping house are given every encouragement to do so.

Classes are not over crowded; hence students get individual help which they could not get in large institutions. For catalogues and information write to L. N. GRAY.

Hartford, Ky.

A STRONG HAUL! 3

Do you ever stop to think what a store stands for, and if the owners are looking for the best goods obtainable and not the "just as good" kind? We are willing to

"Show Our Hand."

We handle only goods that are well known. Whenever it is possible we handle brands which are in the greatest demand.

Some Special Lines.

Cordless Coon and Cluett Peobody Collars and Shirts.

Ladies' Home Journal Patterns.

Finck's Detroit Special Overalls—"wear like a pig's nose."

Duchess Pants—"ten cents a button; one dollar a rip."

Shoes for Everybody.

Shoes for men—Crosset's "make life's walk easy."

Florsheim's, "for the man who cares."

Shoes for women—the Red Cross—"it bends with the foot."

Jones' factory-made, and last but not least, Godman's—good, honest, not so pretty but has the "meat"—all solid shoe—never pieced vamps even to the cheapest. Shoes you can buy for the children that you KNOW have no paper insoles or counters.

We are looking for the trade of people who care for these things. Do YOU?

SUMMARY OF PLATFORM ON WHICH REPUBLICANS ASK INDORSEMENT.

The American farmer's welfare is as important as that of wage-earners or capitalist. The Republican party in the past twelve years has aided the farmer in agriculture and in bringing to him the conveniences of rural life. Free rural mail delivery now reaches millions of our citizens, and we favor its extension until every community in the land receives the full benefits of the postal service.

We recognized the social and economic advantages of good country roads maintained more and more largely at public expense and less and less at the expense of the abutting owners. In this work we commend the growing practice of state aid.

Nothing so clearly demonstrates the sound basis on which our commercial, industrial and agricultural interests are founded, and the necessity of promoting the present continued welfare through the operation of Republican policies, as the recent safe passage of the American people through a financial disturbance which if appearing in the midst of Democratic rule or the menace of it might have equaled the familiar Democratic panics of the past. We congratulate the people and hail with confidence the signs now manifest of a complete restoration of business prosperity in all lines of trade, commerce and manufacture.

The Republican party passed the Sherman anti-trust law over Democratic opposition, and enforced it after Democratic dereliction. But experience has shown that its effectiveness can be strengthened and its real objects better attained by such amendments as will give to the federal government greater supervision and control over, and secure greater publicity in the management of that class of corporations engaged in interstate commerce having power and opportunity to effect monopolies.

The Republican party declares unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of congress immediately following the inauguration of the next president.

In all tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries.

We favor the establishment of maximum and minimum rates, the maximum to be available to meet discriminations by foreign countries against American goods entering their markets, and the minimum to represent the American goods entering their markets.

Another Republican policy which me.

normal measure of protection at home must be ever maintained is that of generous provision for those who have fought the country's battles and for the widows and orphans of those who have fallen.

The Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal. We believe however that the rule of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

The Republican party pledges its continued devotion to every cause that makes for safety and the betterment of conditions among railroad employers.

The Republican party recognizes the special needs of wage-workers generally, for their well-being means the well-being of all.

In the interest of the great mineral industries of our country, we earnestly favor the establishment of a bureau of mines and mining.

We approve the enactment of the railroad rate law and the vigorous enforcement of the statutes against rebates and discriminations.

We believe, however, that the interstate commerce law should be further amended so as to give railroads the right to make and publish traffic agreements subject to the approval of the commission, but maintaining always the principle of competition between naturally competing lines and avoiding the common control of such lines by any means whatever.

We favor such legislation and supervision as will prevent the future overissue of stock and bonds by interstate carriers.

We adhere to the Republican doctrine of encouragement to American shipping, and urge such legislation as will revive the merchant marine prestige of the country.

The many wise and progressive measures adopted at the recent session of congress have demonstrated the patriotic resolve of Republican leadership in the legislative department to keep step in the forward march to better government. Notwithstanding the indefensible filibustering of a Democratic minority in the house of representatives during the last session, many wholesome and progressive laws were enacted.

We favor the establishment of a postal savings bank system for the convenience of the people and the encouragement of thrift.

The Republican party is committed to the development of a permanent currency system, responding to our greater needs, and the appointment of the national monetary commission by the present congress, which will impartially investigate all proposed methods, insures the early realization of this purpose.

The Republican party has been for more than fifty years the consistent friend of the American negro.

We declare once more, and without reservation, for the enforcement, in letter and spirit of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution, which were designed for the protection and advancement of the negro, and we condemn all devices that have for their real aim his disfranchisement for reason of color alone, as unfair, un-American and repugnant to the supreme law of the land.

We call the attention of the American people to the fact that none of the great measures here advocated by the Republican party could be enacted and none of the steps here proposed could be taken under a Democratic administration or under one in which party responsibility is divided. The continuance of present policies, therefore, absolutely requires the continuance in power of that party which believes in them and which possesses the capacity to put them into operation.

A REMARKABLE TALE OF TAILS.

They're Mighty Useful Members To Most of the Animal Kingdom.

Why is a tail? Man is wont to ridicule the caudal appendage and minimize its use probably because he shed his away back in the pithecid stage. The end of things seems to him futile and undignified. Yet the tail continues to be the most important member among animals and the world could hardly wag without it. Arms and legs are a modern invention compared with the sinuous extension that wiggled and waved and acted as a propeller to the early form of life millions of years ago. All sentiments and emotions were expressed by the tail curved or erect or gently moved from side to side constituting a sign language quite sufficient for the ichthyosaurus and other brontosaurus of the deep.

Observe the tails when you visit the zoo, says C. William Beebe curator in the New York Zoological Park, found in Asia Minor and Tartary with a 50-pound tail make the appendage serve as a store house for fat. These enormous extensions are fastened on two sticks which drag on the ground and are carried on two small wheels.

An important function of tails is to whisk away flies and other insects that attack animals unpropected by long hair or thick hides. Two horses or cows standing beside each other head to tail and joining forces to switch off flies illustrate an ingenious application of the proverb that two tails are better than one. The wild horse did not have much tail because his thick and shaggy coat shielded him from insects.

Most aquatic animals use the tail rather than the limbs to swim with. The alligator paddles along slowly with his webbed toes but he folds or lets them drift when he wants to go at full speed by undulating his tail. Seals fold their hind flippers together and use them tail fashion with penguins swim with this wings and steer with their tails. Whales used to live on dry land and crawl about on four feet. When they took to the water they found it convenient to develop tails with a vertical instead of a horizontal sweep. This helped them to shoot up quick from the ocean depths to get air. The alligator's tail is so powerful that it can knock over and injure a half dozen men trying to hold it. The Mexican iguana has a happy faculty of letting an enemy keep the end of his tail while he escaped into his burrow and nature soon makes up with a new growth the appendage he has lost. The porcupine vibrates his quilled tail as a formidable weapon.

A fossil discovered in Bavaria shows how the lizard's tail evolved into the feathered tuft of a bird. This link between reptile and bird had twenty large feathers on each side of its leathery tail, which served chiefly as a rudder in short leaping flights. More features set closely together came in response to need and finally the power to open and shut a fanlike tail of feathers. A curiously is the paradise widow finch of Africa which has a body 4 inches long and a tail a foot in length. After a heavy rain or dew the bird cannot fly until the sun has dried its feathers, which puts it at the mercy of its enemies. The beaver uses its flat, broad tail as a mason's trowel, the great ant eater spends no money for umbrellas while it can arch its large hairy tail over its back, and the kangaroo is saved the expense of chairs by sitting on its wellmuscled tail. The woodpecker employs its stiff tail feathers as a prop when climbing trees. The monkey's tail is well known for its grace and usefulness.

Dog Milk Jersey Gow.

J. A. Montague, of Kirkwood knows now why his Jersey cow has not been supplying the family with milk these two months past. He has been providing a Newfoundland dog with daily milk repasts.

When Bossy's milk supply fell off out of season two months ago Mr. Montague concluded that a milk thief was beating him to it. He got up earlier, but it was the same thing. By and by he made up his mind that something was the matter with the cow.

He would have called in a cow doctor, but she seemed to be thriving all right. He waited for some time to solve the mystery.

All this time there was another mystery at the Oakwood Hotel. The appetite of a Newfoundland dog, owned by one of the guests began to fall off about the time that Mr. Montague's milk supply began to fail.

Breakfast table leavings which had always brought an appreciative wag of the tail was scorned.

Mr. Montague was up at daylight Friday for something of other. He caught Carlo milking the cow. Carlo saw him coming and left in the middle of the meal.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure Digests what you eat.

Straws Adrift.

William Randolph Hearst, who was the last Democratic candidate for governor of the State of New York, made a speech at Chicago at the opening of the convention of the independence league and among other things had the following to say of Mr. Bryan and the Democratic platform.

The Democratic party is merely envious of the Republican party's ill-gotten finery. It upbraids her at once for her finery. It upbraids her at one election and imitates her at the next.

The Democratic vanguard is a Falstaff's army; it is led by a knight arrayed in a motley grab of modified professions and compromised principle of altered opinions and retracted statements.

A Falstaff's army whose banner bears on one side a washword for the people and on the other a password for the trusts, whose only object is office at any cost. whose motto, "After us the deluge," Assuming that Mr. Bryan himself is all that his most ardent admirers claim him to be a great lawyer and enlightened statesman an inspired patriot still a man is known by the company he keeps and no decent Democrat can tolerate his company.

SURE CURE For All Diseases of STOMACH, LIVER & KIDNEYS

ELECTRIC BITTERS Quick Relief and Cure for Headache, Backache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Malaria, etc.

No honest citizen can let down the bars of office to such an Al Baba's band of boddies and braves.

No prudent citizen will support a combination to which Tegart supplies candidate and Parker a platform, for which Ryan will pay the freight and the people will pay the penalty.

The Democratic platform contains some good and original things but as has been said, the original things are not good and the good things are not original.

It was built by political jackdaws who feathered their nests with the plumes of others without understanding of their significance or intention as to their performance. It is the habitation of a hermit crab which has no shell of its own and invades the first convenient one without regard to property or propriety.

It is a platform too of reconciliation and retraction of atonement and apology of harmony and hypocrisy, for in compliance with a former contract Parker has pronounced peace, Bill Bailey has poured Standard oil upon the trouble waters and Bryan has killed not only the fated calf, but the goose that laid the golden egg. No man can serve two masters, and no man can conciliate the conflicting elements of the Democratic party. He who tries must serve one and deceive the other, must make public pretense to the people and private compact with the trusts.

A Reliable Remedy CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm

is quickly absorbed.

Gives Relief at Once.

It cleases, soothes,

heals and protects

the diseased membrane resulting from

Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of

Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Drugists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents.

Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

HAY FEVER

BUCKBEE'S BULBS

BUCKBEE'S BULBS SUCCEED!

SPECIAL OFFER:

Made to build New Business. A trial will make you a permanent customers and a guarantee of your money refunded.

Souvenir Collection 25 Cents BULBS

BUCKBEE'S BULBS

A UNIQUE THIRTY-EIGHT STORY BUILDING.

New York's New Skyscraper Will Have Six Stories Underground.

A thirty-eight-story office building which will probably be the last of the tallest of the big building of the city, is to be built on the site of the Tower Building at 50 Broadway, the first modern steel frame skyscraper to be put up in the city.

The plans which were filed with the Bureau of Buildings yesterday, show that the whole structure will run up the total height, thus making it easily the tallest strictly office building in the city, if he Singer and Metropolitan Buildings which are in the form of towers above the main structures are eliminated from consideration. The new building code which has been adopted and is at present under consideration by the Mayor calls for the limiting for construction on the total base area of about 20 stories.

The provisions of the new code have not yet been made public but it is known that they restrict the number of stories of which a building can be constructed for its entire height that the new building will be the last of the very tall structures outside of New York.

The building will run through from Broadway to New street with a frontage of 81 feet and 10 inches, taking in the entire space for the Forty-two Broadway Building to the Exchange Court Building on the corner of Exchange place and Broadway. Besides the Tower Building the small structures at 44, 46 and 48 Broadway and 43, 45 and 47 New street, will be torn down to make room for the new building. The new street frontage will be 80 feet and 2 inches with an average depth of 167 feet and a total area of 13,500 square feet. The New-street side will be a story taller than the Broadway front, and as it is planned to run the building six stories under ground from the Broadway front the building will in reality be 44 stories.

An offer has already been received by the Broadway and New Street Realty Company which is to finance the new building for all the underground space from whom they do not say. The height of the building from bedrock will be 538 feet and 443 feet above the level of Broadway. The structure will contain 833 offices, with a total renting space of 330,000 square feet. There will be 16 elevators five running from the lowest basement. The fireproofing W. C. Hazlett the architect announces will be the most highly perfected of any structure ever put up.

Several of the cantilever foundation girders will be seven feet in height, four feet wide and 36 feet long. The building will cost approximately $3,750,000. The exterior wall will be entirely enameled brick, and terra cotta will give a great deal of poly-chromatic decoration. The color scheme will be generally white and green. The greater part of the terra-cotta decoration will be in wild West animals and figures a row of Indians seven feet tall running along the top of the ornamental entrance work at about the third story. The building will be 50 Broadway, but will be called the Osage Building the owners having gathered the money with which they invested in New York real estate from oil fields in the Osage Indian district in Indian Territory. They formed the Broadway and New Street Company and acquired the property which is to be supplied by the new building about four years ago. They do not care to have their names disclosed at present.

The plans for the Tower Building the present eleven-story structure at 50 Broadway were filed in the spring of 1888 by Bradford L. Gilbert and caused a great deal of discussion at the time. They called for a steel and wrought iron skeleton frame instead of the solid masonry construction which had been used up to that time. There was nothing in the building code that considered any such affair as this and the authorities were puzzled for a long time whether to allow the construction of the new building. The permit was granted after a lengthy consideration by a special board.

The wrecking work will be commenced on October 1 and it is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy by February 1, 1910.

A Most Shameless Demand for Dollars.

Can anyone imagine James Buchanan or Stephen A. Douglas or John C. Breckinridge or General McClellan or Horatio Seymour or General Hancock, or any other Democratic candidate for the presidency save and except William Jennings Bryan demanding money from the farmers of the United States in order to put him in the White House.

Isn't it a pitiful spectacle? Not only does Mr. Bryan, with the concurrence of his Indiana associate on the ticket solicit contributions from five dollars upward, but he has evidently made a careful computation of the number of farmers who are able to "pay, pay, pay." Just listen to him.

There are hundreds of thousands of farmers who are abundantly able to contribute to the campaign fund. There are thousands who could give $100 apiece without feeling it. There are tens of thousands who could give $50 apiece without sacrificing anything and still more who could give $25, $10 or $5."

Verily all standards of dignity in public life and politics have been thrown to the winds when we have come down to this. "Who will be the first to respond?" ask Mr. Bryan. It is like the voice of an auctioneer asking for bids. Money talks," says the cynic. "Money is needed to elect me and Kern," says Mr. Bryan the denouncer of the money power in politics, "and I want the farmers of the country to furnish it." So anxious are Messers. Bryan and Kern to have money and to have it now that pending the organization of the national committee, "we will ask the Commoner to call for subscriptions to the farmers' fund." There is a really comical touch in this. "Ask the Commoner" forsooth! Why, the Commoner is Mr. Bryan's newspaper. He is the Commoner.

Mr. Bryan is certainly a friend of the people in one sense. He wants to get their money and he evidently believes that they have lots of it left, notwithstanding their suffering at the hands of the great predatory corporations he talks so much about.

Fruit and Sugar for Horses.

Grain is not the only food on which the horse thrives. In Egypt the Khedive's best mares are fed largely on currants, and these animals are noted for the endurance and speed.

Figs during the big harvest, from the food of the horses of Smyrna; they are fed to the horses of the West Indies.

The green tops of the sugar-cane dies and for long weeks in many parts of Canada, windfall apples form the horse's only food.

In Tasmania peaches and in Arabia dates take the place of the usual hay and oats corn and bran.

Elephants Quer Diet.

A gentleman recently brought to the British Museum about half a peck of stones asserted to have been taken from the stomach of an African elephant. The stones are quite angular and unwhorned. It was stated by the donor that other instances of the same nature are known to hunters. If such stones are habitually swallowed by elephants one wonders, in the first place that they do not seriously damage the molar teeth and secondly why it is that they do not become rounded. It is believed that the same gentleman recently demonstrated the existence of the stone-swallowing habit of crocodiles.

Strategy That Failed.

A lumberman living in Minneapolis was reputed to be the wealthiest man living west of the Mississippi River. He had never overcome the economic habits that he had formed in days of poverty and in the building of the foundation of his colossal fortune.

His two sons however were differently trained and when they returned from Yale they were seized with a desire born no doubt of filial love to fix the old man up. They knew that it was vain to attempt to induce him to buy clothes other than the shabby and threadbare garments he had worn for years and they resorted to strategy.

They went to a tailor and told him to make a $75 coat for their father, but to tell him that the price was $15. The loving sons promised to pay the difference from the amounts they drew from their father's bank account.

The old man finally consented after much urging to buy a $15 coat and the coat was made. The old man paid over the $15 and before he had gone more than two blocks he was met by an acquaintance who was astounded to see the multimillionaire in the uncustomary garment. He commented on the quality of the coat and his forefathers having been Englishmen he asked how much it cost.

"Fifteen dollars."

"Fifteen dollars! I'll give you twenty!"

"It's yours!"

In Memory

Of Mrs. Jessie Coy Maden who died Monday July 27, 1908. She was 16 years 6 months and 19 day of age. She was only a short time and spoke only a few words.

She became unconscious Monday morning at about 5 o'clock and died Monday night at 12 or 1 o'clock.

Drs. Duff and Stewart of Dundee and Dr. Ford of Hartford did all in their power to save her young life but all in vain. Dear Jesus knew best and took her from this sinful world where there is no more sorrow for poor

Jessie. Her darling baby boy was buried in her arms it was a sad sight to look upon.

She leaves a dear father and mother six brothers, and 2 sisters and many relatives and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Two brothers Will Coy of Owensboro and Oliver Coy of same Co., and one sister Mary L. Nelson of Illinois were absent.

Oh, if they could have been with Jessie once more before she left us. But they were so far away and she was taken and died so sudden it was impossible for them to be.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Her loving school-mates were pall bearers. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. D. Baughn and the parting song was sung, God Be With You Till We Meet Again and then they were laid in the cold and silent tomb, where they will await the coming of Christ.

Dearest sister thou hast left us, And thy loss we deeply feel, But its God who hath bereft us, He will all our sorrow heal.

Her Loving Sister,
NANNIE HINES.

Freaks of Lighting

The United States is gathering its annual crop of reports of the freaks of lightning. Most of the lightning freaks are fraught with terrible consequences to man or beast, says the New York Press. Up in Le Roy, N. Y., two horses were standing in a barn when a bolt struck between them bursting the eardrums of both animals but leaving them otherwise uninjured.

Down in West Virginia a man was riding a horse and hurrying to shelter from an oncoming storm when the lightning struck the horse killing it instantly but not harming the rider in the least. The motorman on a trolley car in Anniston, Ala., actually was undressed by a bolt from the sky. The lightning tore his clothes off completely ripped the face off his watch melted the chain and left a burned spot on his knee.

At Hornell N. Y., one of the residents was sleeping on a feather bed when a bolt of lightning struck his house. The sleeper was thrown clear out of bed on to the floor but was otherwise uninjured. In Willimantic, Conn., one of the local fire engines horses was struck and the electrical apparatus was put out of order. No one was in the house at the time so the damage was not noted in the neighborhood. But an alarm was set ringing in the residence of the fire chief some distance away and he hastened to the engine house to discover that the lightning has struck the alarm.

Out in Petersburg, Ind., three young men were sitting on a veranda porch when a bolt struck them and the nearby barn at the same time. The feet of the men were badly burned and when one of them recovered, consciousness he declared he had felt something strike him on the shoulder and run down his back to his feet. On being examined a board mark of livid red was found on his back from his shoulder to his heel. The same bolt struck two harnessed horses in the barn, and not only rendered them unconscious for two hours but also melted all the harness buckles and ripped the shoes off their hoofs.

For Sale.

We have about 70 acres of good farmland on the Hart's Ford road, one and half miles from Sunnyside, directly on the M. H. & E. R. R. Good dwelling and out buildings. Nice young orchard and abundant supply of freestone water.

75 acres at Davidson Station on the Owensboro branch of the I. C. R. R. 60 acres fine bottom land, will grow 54 or 80 bushels to acre, 15 acres of rolling land, very fertile. Two fine Springs everlasting water, bounded on the South by rough Creek.

BARNETT & SMITH Agents.

Notic to All Interested.

It having been ordered by the Ohio county Union of the A. S. of E. at its last meeting that we act as revivers, reorganizers and organizers of locals we desire to state that any community or local desiring our services may procure same by arranging for a meeting and giving us a week's notice.

S. L. STEVENS, Pres.

DAVID MORELAND, Ex-Pres.

Jessie. Her darling baby boy was buried in her arms it was a sad sight to look upon.

She leaves a dear father and mother six brothers, and 2 sisters and many relatives and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Two brothers Will Coy of Owensboro and Oliver Coy of same Co., and one sister Mary L. Nelson of Illinois were absent.

Oh, if they could have been with Jessie once more before she left us. But they were so far away and she was taken and died so sudden it was impossible for them to be.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in our homes she was loved by all who knew her.

We no more can see her sweet smiles nor hear her loving footsteps on this earth and as we look around and see a vacant chair it makes many a heart ache. Oh, how we will miss her by our fireside next winter those long, long hours, how can we pass them by without Jessie.

But then we must prepare to meet her and her little babe in heaven and we would say weep not for her for our loss is heaven's gain. We must say Gods will be done. They were lain peacefully at rest in the family burying ground Tuesday evening, where they will sleep in Jesus until that Judgment day, when they will come forth and we will meet again where parting is no more.

Oh, how we miss her in SIX GREAT DAYS AT THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

The Special Days program has been announced, with Fred W. Kelsker, President of the Louisville Commercial Club, as general chairman of the Special Days committee. The first day will be known as Governor's Day and School Children's Day. It will mark the dedication of the new $100,000 Live Stock Pavilion, which is now nearing completion, and which when finished will be by far the greatest exhibition hall in America. It is a building which will reflect credit not only to the management of the State Fair, but to the state itself. The ceremonies will include an address by Governor Willson and in all probability a number of other distinguished speakers will be present on that occasion. School children will be admitted that day for 10 cents, and Prof. H. C. McKee, President of the Kentucky State Educational Association, who is chairman of the first day's program is endeavoring to get out the largest attendance of children ever seen on a fairground in a single day.

Tuesday, Sept. 15th, will be College Day and Fraternal Day. Prof. F. Paul Anderson of the State University at Lexington, is chairman, and Charles B. Norton of Louisville, vice chairman for that day. On account of the very low railroad rates a much larger attendance of college students than usual is expected, and Prof. Anderson is actively working for large delegations from all the various collegiate institutions in the state. All the fraternal organizations of Louisville and other cities and towns of the state are invited to join in an effort to make this one of the biggest days of the Fair. On this day the judging in all departments will begin. Horse and cattle awards will be made in the new show pavilion, while all other live-stock, poultry and other departments will be judged in arenas especially prepared for that purpose.

Wednesday, Sept. 16th, will be Louisville Day and Southern Indiana Day. Mayor James F. Grinstead of Louisville will be chairman, and Jacob Best, mayor of New Albany, and E. N. Flynn, mayor of Jeffersonville, vice chairmen. The mayors of all three cities will issue a half-holiday proclamation. In addition to the many attractive horse rings, jack stock, Hereford and Angus cattle, Ayreshire cattle, Durock-Jersey and Chester White Swine, Hampshire, Cotswold and American Merino sheep will be judged.

Thursday, always the largest in attendance of the week, will be known as Kentucky Day and Press Day. On no single day or event in the year are so many Kentuckians from all sections of the state assembled together. Mr. Tim Needham, Williamstown, Ky., president of the Kentucky Press Association, is chairman for that day and has named for his associates a number of the most wideawake young newspaper men of the state, and if plans do not miscarry it will prove a genuine reunion of the quill-pushers.

Governor Willson will call a meeting of all persons interested in good roads in Kentucky on this day at the State Fair. Every city, commercial club, and fiscal court in the state will be invited to send delegates, and it is expected to here organize a permanent Good Roads Association in Kentucky. The question of securing the adoption by the people in 1909 of the Bosworth good roads amendment to the Constitution will be discussed. With low railroad rates and the State Fair attractions, it is thought a record-breaking crowd of good road advocates will be on hand.

Friday, Sept. 18th, has been designated as Equity Day and Grange Day. J. Campbell Cantrell of Georgetown, Ky., president of the Kentucky Branch American Society of Equity, has been named as chairman and F. P. Wolcott of Covington, Ky., Master of the Kentucky State Grange, vice chairman. Arrangements are being made for an immense parade of the members of the Society of Equity, composed of the many tobacco growers in both the dark patch and burley districts, through the streets of Louisville that day. This powerful organization, assisted by that noble band of true and enlightened farmers known as the Patrons of Husbandry, are uniting their efforts and walking shoulder to shoulder in this move and propose to make it an event of far-reaching importance and magnitude to the Kentucky farmer. Miss Alice Loyd, the daughter of the Society of Equity, will deliver an address. The judging in all departments except horses will be concluded this day, and in the afternoon there will be a grand parade of all the prize winners, horses, mules, jacks and cattle in the Livestock Pavilion, with ribbons attached and animals placed in the order the awards were made.

Saturday, the last day, will be Everybody's Day. Anyone not classed under any other day will certainly be included in this.

Fairs Time-Keepers of Progress.

President McKinley in his last speech made upon the grounds of the Buffalo Exposition, said among other things: "Fairs and Expositions are the timepieces which mark the progress of nations, and every fair, great or small, has helped in some onward progress."

The Kentucky breeder of livestock cannot bring his stock before the public attention better than by taking a premium at the Kentucky State Fair.

For catalogue, entry blanks or other information write J. W. Newman, Secretary, 320 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky.

CONVENTIONS AND EXCURSIONS.

A new special committee has been created this year by the State Fair management, known as the Committee on Excursions and Conventions, with Mr. Smith T. Bailey as chairman. Already a number of annual meetings for state organizations have been secured, including the Kentucky Beef Cattle Association, the Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club, the Swine Breeders' Association, the State Berkshire Association, the State Horticultural Society, the Good Roads Association and various others of a kindred nature.

A suitable convention hall will be provided underneath the grandstand with every accommodation and convenience possible for the visiting organizations. Chairman Bailey hopes to have many other meetings listed before the opening day and is arranging to have a large number of excursion trains from all sections of the state. In other words, it is his intention to make it a convention week and the banner week in the history of the Falls City for the largest number of out-of-town visitors.

THE NEW STATE FAIR GROUNDS.

The new Kentucky State Fair grounds, where the 1908 annual exhibition will be held, is easily one of the most modernly arranged and best equipped in the country. From an aesthetic point of view the graceful lines of the buildings harmonize with the surrounding topography. The car lines will extend into the grounds so that one may step directly from the car to the entrance of the Fair. An imposing archway will extend over the main driveway at the entrance. The driveway, 100 feet in width, leads directly to the Livestock Pavilion. Grass plots with rows of trees will subdivide this driveway and lines of hedges will border it on the sides. In front of the Livestock Pavilion will be an attractive fountain located in the center of large flower bed designs.

The racetrack and grandstand are located in the eastern part of the grounds, some 600 feet from the pavilion. The surface of the track has been finished with exceptionally fine clay. The stables and cooling shed for horses are located just south of the track. The architecture of all the buildings will be along the lines of the Spanish Mission style, with white sides and red tile roofs. This class and style of architecture will harmonize with the undulating grounds and graceful driveways which are bordered with hedges and plants and give it a most pleasing appearance.

$100,000 LIVESTOCK PAVILION.

It is with much pride that the State Fair management will open to the public in September what has every reason to believe is the finest Livestock pavilion in the world. While somewhat similar to other great State Fair pavilions, it is quite different from any of them and combines the good points of all of them. It will be 212 feet wide and 400 feet long, with an interior arena measuring 116 by 300 feet.

There will be an entrance to the arena at either end, having direct connection with the horse and cattle barns. A fifteen-foot promenade will extend entirely around the outside of the arena. The main entrances are arranged in four large towers, one at each corner of the building, to give an abundance of space for entrance and exit. The construction is of the most permanent character, being largely concrete and steel. All horses and cattle will be exhibited in this building, a great improvement over the hot, dusty show rings and the inconvenient stuffy tents used in the past.

WEBER'S BAND

Weber's Prize Band of America, one of the finest concert organizations in the West, will furnish the music for the State Fair. Each of Weber's programs will be three hours long and be made up entirely of popular music. A number of soloists will be heard. Mr. Weber has felt the public pulse long enough to know about what is wanted; add to this a band that is unsurpassed anywhere, his own personality and splendid leading powers, soloists of known ability, and it is hard to see how the State Fair management could have secured a bigger attraction in the way of a band.

THE HORSE SHOW AT

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

With the largest prizes ever offered for horses at a Kentucky Fair, the greatest exhibit of equine flesh in the history of the Blue Grass State is confidently expected. For the first time exhibitors and spectators will have the pleasure of seeing a first-class horse show in a large, commodious arena, completely under shelter, without feeling the effect of the burning sun or being exposed to damp and chilly weather and undergoing the inconvenience of a weather-soaked show ring.

Turnstiles to be Used at the Kentucky State Fair.

Secretary J. W. Newman of the Kentucky State Fair has provided the most approved pattern of turnstile to be used at each entrance to the State Fair. Neither the sturdy nor the fairman will have any trouble in passing through them. They are equipped with registers which can tell at any minute just how many persons have passed through.

A State Fair ribbon has the backing of the Commonwealth of Kentucky; it is a trophy of great sentimental and advertising value aside from the cash premium which accompanies it.

For catalogue, entry blanks or other information, write J. W. Newman, Secretary, 320 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky.

A GREAT LINE OF FREE ATTRACTIONS.

In line with its policy to put on only the greatest attractions that can be secured, the Kentucky State Fair management has closed a contract with Frank P. Spellman of Cleveland, O., for what is believed to be the best line of free attractions ever seen at a Southern Fair. These attractions will be seen in front of the grandstand each day, including Spellman's Performing Bears and ten other free attractions, such as trapeze acts, mid-air performances, etc.

A Japanese troupe of gymnasts and equilibrists, excelling in their line anything ever seen before in Louisville, has been engaged especially for the State Fair, and will be seen exclusively in Kentucky at that time. In addition to the more thrilling of the well-known acts of balancing and gymnastic work, they have devised several features which will be for the first time introduced here.

The thrillers of free attractions, however, will be the troupe of trapeze performers, including several men, women and a tiny tot which is buried by its heels twenty-five feet through the air and is safely caught by one of its elders. Accidents do not occur in this act, but despite their perfection a net is spread for a possible emergency, so that even if an accident should occur, no fatality would result.

The shows already engaged for the "Stretch" are Fereria's Trained Wild Animal Congress, the Dicky Wild West Show and Cow Boy Indians; the Dark Town Fire Brigade; Heaven and Hell Mechanical Device; Johnstown Flood; Palace of Illusions; Electric Palace, and many others which will be added later. This is enough to insure every visitor that there will be something doing every minute.

EXHIBITS AND CLASSIFICATIONS

At the Kentucky State Fair.

Entries of exhibits in all Livestock Departments, except for horses, mules and jack stock, will close Monday, Sept. 7th, at 6 p. m., and in all other departments prior to Thursday, Sept. 10th. Entries of horses, mules and jacks will positively close at 12 o'clock the day before the exhibition this year, as there will be a printed program of the horse show, giving the name of the owner, the name and color of the horse, and the number of the entry, which must correspond with the arm number on the person riding, driving or exhibiting same. It is absolutely essential that the entry giving this information be filed with the Secretary by noon of the day preceding the exhibition.

Exhibits must be placed by 9 o'clock Monday morning, Sept. 7th, and exhibitors in all departments have been so notified.

There are 1,328 different rings in which liberal prizes are offered, while there is a total of over 300 different lots. The horse classification is subdivided into classes suitable for light harness, five-gaited saddlers, three-gaited saddlers, roadsters, combined harness and five-gaited saddlers, plantation saddlers, runabouts, high steppers, Shetland ponies and fine horses. The mules and jack stock are well taken care of.

In the Beef Cattle Department the classification is complete for Short-horns, Herefords, Polled Durhams, Aberdeen-Angus and Red Polls. In the dairy cattle department Jerseys, Holstein-Friesians, Guernseys and Ayreshires are recognized. The Swine Department includes Berkshires, Poland-Chinas, Durock-Jerseys, Chester Whites, Tamworths, Hampshires and Yorkshires. In the Sheep Department the following breeds are recognized: Shropshires, Cotswolds, Southdowns, American Merinos, Oxfords, Hampshires, Dorsets, Rambouillet and Lincolns, also a class for Angora Goats. The Poultry classification covers every known standard variety, and the same is true of the Pigeon Department, the prize money being materially increased over last year's list. The Departments for Vegetables and Melons, Field Seed and Grain and Tobacco contain classes for almost every product grown on the farm. In Horticulture there are hundreds of prizes offered for apples, peaches, pears, grapes, etc. Plants and Flowers, one of the most attractive exhibits at a fair, will be larger and better than ever before. In no department is there a more interesting collection of premiums than in that set aside for woman's work, children's work and table luxuries.

The Perfect Carriage Horse at the State Fair.

In order to develop a perfect carriage horse, the United States Government appointed a Commission to investigate the desired points that should be possessed. In order to stimulate the breeding of this class of animals, the Kentucky State Fair offers a $75 trophy and a $50 cup for the best mare and stallion, according to the government classification. The points desired by the carriage horse are given in detail in the State Fair catalogue.

A State Fair ribbon has the backing of the Commonwealth of Kentucky; it is a trophy of great sentimental and advertising value aside from the cash premium which accompanies it.

For catalogue, entry blanks or other information, write J. W. Newman, Secretary, 320 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky.

The Breckenridge COUNTY FAIR

Hardinsburg, Ky.

September 1, 2, 3.

A display of Agricultural Products. A Horse Show. An Exhibition of Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Poultry. A Running Race each day. A Trotting Race each day. Floral Hall the greatest in the State. Something to suit everybody. A real Kentucky Fair.

M. H. BEARD, Sec'y.

JAMES LYONS' GREAT FREE OFFER!

The Most Startling, the Most Unreasonable Offer You Ever Heard Of.

NOTHING EVER LIKE IT

$20 WORTH OF GOODS

Your own selection from my entire stock, actually given away to the lucky guesser. No split premiums. You get the whole thing. ONLY 144 GUESSES. You are entitled to one guess for each BUGGY WHIP YOU BUY. This whip retails the world over for 50 cents. A genuine Rawhide and Phillipine Bone from cap to snap. Something everybody needs. You get full value in the whip alone.

The lucky number has been deposited in the Ohio County Bank in a sealed envelope sent us from the factory. Nobody knows what it is. If you hold the lucky or corresponding number, it is all yours.

Just Think of It! $20 for Almost Nothing!

COME EARLY OR YOU WILL BE LEFT OUT.

James Lyons, - Hartford, Ky.

TOO LATE FOR LAST WEEK.

WHITESVILLE.

Aug. 5.—People are now busy threshing wheat in this vicinity.

Crops are looking fine in this neighborhood. Rain is not seriously needed.

Mr. Frank Heming has moved back to his property at this place.

The new two story brick store being put up by W. B. Wells for D. F. Brooks and son is being pushed rapidly.

Work has begun on the road between here and Oklahoma preparatory to laying the rock.

Miss Della McCann of Shorts attended Sunday school here Sunday.

Miss Ollie May and Flois Hays, of Rockport Ind., are visiting their aunt Miss Emma Hays.

Mr. Tom Lee Ralph and wife went to the Chautauqua yesterday.

Those that went to Tar Springs from here this week are: W. R. Johnson and wife, D. F. Brooks, and wife, D.

Mr. Otis Kelly attended the Con-

P. Brooks and wife, Mrs. Nina Harrison, Mrs. Jane McRae and two daughters, Carrie and Lucy.

Dr. McDowell, wife and son, William and wife, Mr. Roilie Jackson and wife, Mr. Lounie Martin spent the latter part of last week on Rough river fishing.

Mr. Thomas Hickey and family of this place are attending the Chautauqua this week.

Mr. Sewall Kelley spent last week with his cousin Mr. Alva Kelley of Deanfield.

The infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. David Farmore was buried at Taylorfield yesterday.

Miss Sue M. Moseley one of the most intelligent and highly respected young ladies of the country was buried at the Kates' graveyard on 27th of July.

BAIZETOWN.

Aug. 13.—Fina Baize of this place was found dead on the railroad track just below Broadway Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock by the section boss.

He and his father-in-law Mr. Nim Wilson, had gone to McHenry Monday with produce and Baize went to Central City Monday night supposed to get some whiskey and it is the general belief that he fell off the train and was killed. His remains were brought home for burial. He leaves a wife and two small children and a host of friends to mourn his sad demise.

Crops are looking well here.

H. K. James and C. M. Phigley played some excellent music Sunday evening at the Lick Cave with their grandphophone. There was a large crowd present.

Rev. Jack Sudgrass will preach at the Baptist church Sunday.

Dr. P. T. Willis, Cromwell was here Tuesday.